LABOR BILL NOW IN ITS LAST STAGE

Eight-Hour and Wages Measure for Government Workers Is Reported From Committee

PRINCIPLE OF BILL IS GIVEN APPROVAL

Mr. Bennett Points Out It Satisfies Commitments Made as Long Ago as Year 1919

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, April 10.—The Government's Eight-Hour Day Bill advanced to the final stage in the House of Commons tonight. After it had been discussed in principle and detail for the great part of the afternoon and part of the evening, it was finally reported from committee and now stands for third reading.

CLARIFYING PROVISIONS
Minor amendments to the measure, for the purpose of clarifying its provisions, were introduced by Hon. Peter Henderson, Minister of Labor. These make it clear that the bill applied only to future contracts, and that it does not apply to established factories engaged in the manufacture of materials, supplies or equipment unless such factories were established to supply these products.

The title of the bill is "An act respecting fair wages and an eight-hour day for labor employed in public works of the Dominion of Canada." It set forth that every contract with the Government of Canada for construction, remodeling, repair, demolition of any work shall be subject to certain conditions respecting wages and hours.

The first condition is that persons employed by the contractor doing Government work must be paid current wages for comparable workmen in the district in which the work is being performed. In a district in which, in the opinion of the Minister, the current rates of wages are not fair, he may declare the rates that shall be paid. Secondly, the working hours of employees must not exceed eight hours a day excepting in special or emergency cases.

The principle of the bill met with general acceptance. Such criticism as there was found its basis in the fact that the measure had not been introduced earlier and also that it did not go far enough.

MR. BENNETT APPROVES
Expressing amazement at the alacrity of a Government just before an election, Hon. R. B. Bennett, Opposition leader, stated that the bill was a long overdue measure.

BEGINS SEEDING

BRANDON, April 10.—Seeding commenced in Brandon district yesterday, when Mr. John Miller, of Carnegie, seeded twelve acres of wheat. He continued operations today. Many farmers are at work ploughing and harrowing on light land and several expect to start seeding Saturday if the recent excellent weather holds.

U.S. Miners Unquiet in Many Fields

PROVIDENCE, Ky., April 10.—With nearly 2,000 coal miners idle in this (Webster) county alone, peace officers today took steps to prevent violence, as strikers began picketing mines where attempts to continue operation were made.

Most of the idle men are on strike because of the refusal of demands for recognition of the United Mine Workers of America, changed working conditions, and establishment of the 1927 wage scale, but several hundred have lost their jobs because of shutdowns caused by unfavorable market conditions. Other hundreds of men are on strike in other counties of this field, notably Hopkins and Muhlenberg.

Picketing of several mines was started yesterday, and at a meeting of the local union here last night, attended by about 400 men, plans were made to send 250 pickets to the Wheatcroft and Clay mines of the West Kentucky Coal Company, on reports of plans to operate there.

PEDDLER RASH IS EPIDEMIC UNDER POLICY

Putting Soft Pedal on Collectivism Results in Swarms of Sellers on Moscow Streets

PRIVATE SELLING NOW VERY ACTIVE

By PAUL WRIGHT

MOSCOW, U.S.S.R., April 10.—One of the most obvious results of Dictator Josef Stalin's order a month ago to stop peddling Soviet policies is the reappearance in Moscow of private vendors, who through the streets in great numbers, notably around the Place of the Revolution and the area near the Kremlin.

These merchants sell a wide variety of foods and other goods which hitherto have been forbidden to private dealers. Most of the vendors are women, and the gutters with their goods spread out along the stone sidewalks. Principally they sell butter and eggs, cheese, sausage, meat, fish and apples. You may, if you wish, purchase mutton chops or fish, either salt or fresh, displayed on planks or in baskets or on bricks, likewise hunks of beef, pork or veal. One ragged hawk near here gets a good-natured laugh from the crowds by calling "Pure kolchose veal"—the latter, a term from the collective farms. Women stand holding two or three dressed chickens.

New Westminster Still Hopes for Fair Buildings

NEW WESTMINSTER, April 10.—Believing that the provincial exhibition here should be continued if possible, the executive of the Royal Agricultural and Industrial Society decided at a meeting on Wednesday night to ask the city council for $65,000, the remainder of the insurance on the destroyed exhibition buildings.

It was stated that at least two exhibition buildings, if constructed for that amount, if construction declines to give this money to the society the latter will request a plebiscite on whether the money should be spent in erecting exhibition buildings, or as proposed by the council, to erect an auditorium. The decision was deferred Monday night over awarding a contract to construct the auditorium and will meet tomorrow morning, with the intention of awarding a contract.

Seven Million Out of Work in United States

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Senator Harris, Democrat, Georgia, asserted that 7,000,000 persons in the United States were out of work, and that many of their jobs had been taken by Mexicans, as the Senate today took up his bill to subject South American countries to the quota immigration law.

MORE EFFECTIVE TEAR GAS BOMB

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 10.—Creation of a new tear gas bomb for riot use, faster working and more powerful than the present type, is announced by the War Department. It will produce an effective gas concentration so quickly that a rioter will be made helpless immediately.

MAHATMA HAS DREAM HE IS BEING TAKEN

Declares He Will Be Sitting in Car With Books When Officers Come to Arrest Him

BLOOD PRESSURE IS CAUSE OF ILLNESS

(Associated Press)

JALURBAD, India, April 10.—Mahatma Gandhi, the veteran Indian Nationalist leader, who has been manufacturing salt this week in defiance of the Government monopoly, declared today he was fully prepared for arrest.

He said he would be sitting in his motor car with two or three books when the arresting officers came. He was not prepared to go to jail through shedding of blood, as some newspapers had reported. Mahatma had reported his words in that sense either had misunderstood his language or else his language was at fault, he asserted.

SUFFERERS OLD COMPLAINT

The Mahatma had an attack of his old complaint of high blood pressure and was forced to rest most of today. Today he went to the marshy plains near Abrama to urge mass civil disobedience. Before he arrived some Indian youths and officers of the excise department had a slight altercation over contraband salt and when Gandhi reached the place a crowd of women rushed to welcome him. The leader greeted them and then led the group in taking salt from sea water.

Royal Assent Is Given to Bills Already Passed

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Ont., April 10.—Before adjournment of the Senate until after the Easter recess, royal assent was given this afternoon to a number of bills, which have passed both houses of Parliament. The bills assented to included those providing for the extension of the boundary of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and the Canadian Pacific Railway branch lines; a bill providing for the extension of the boundary of the Province of Manitoba in the northwest angle inlet of Lake of the Woods; a bill respecting the Eastern Canada Savings and Loan Company; and amendments to the Timber Marketing Act, the Patent Act, the Supreme Court Act and the Indian Act.

Naval Parity Means Step Towards Making Assured The Peace of the World

(Canadian Press)

TORONTO, April 10.—"Will naval parity between Great Britain and the United States help to promote world peace?" This was the question asked by Professor George M. Wrong in an address before the Empire Club here today, a question which the speaker himself answered by a definite affirmative. Dr. Wrong, who is professor emeritus of modern history of the University of Toronto and is a noted lecturer, was speaking on the subject: "What Naval Parity Means to Canada."

"The United States," declared the speaker, "would not accept inferiority on the seas to any other power. If we must have naval parity surely the United States is our most satisfactory equal."

WHAT PARITY INVOLVES

Professor Wrong asked what naval parity with Japan or France would involve. In the case of Japan he thought there was little to fear since an attack from the East would probably be equally resisted by the two Anglo-Saxon nations; but the case of France was different, pursued the speaker. France already could boast a stronger air force than Great Britain; London was more

PLAN TAKING RESERVES OF FOREST LAND

Measure Authorizing Withdrawal of Valuable Land of Forest Reserves Is Introduced

STRONG OPPOSITION IS SHOWN IN HOUSE

Mr. Bennett Forces Standing Over of Measure Till Provinces Are Consulted

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, April 10.—A measure authorizing the withdrawal from the forest reserves of lands considered valuable for agricultural purposes encountered opposition in the House of Commons tonight. The bill, which came up for second reading, was finally allowed to stand until the wishes of the Western Provinces were ascertained.

TERMS OF MEASURE

(a) To provide for the withdrawal of areas aggregating 106 square miles from forest reserves in Saskatchewan and ten square miles from forest reserves in the railway belt of British Columbia. No provision is made for the placing of any additional area under reservation for forestry, either in Saskatchewan or British Columbia, and no revisions whatever are provided for in connection with forest reserves in Manitoba.

The lands comprising the proposed withdrawals are situated immediately inside the boundaries of the various reserves, in the transition zone between agricultural and absolute forest lands. Except in a few cases where small parcels are required for Indian reserves and summer resort purposes.

With the exceptions specified, all areas which it is proposed to withdraw from the forest reserves are examined and determined to be of potential agricultural value.

(b) To provide for the alteration of the description of the Rocky Mountain Forest Reserve in Alberta, comprising 821 square miles of scenic mountainous territory, formerly in the reserve and recently included by proclamation in the Rocky Mountain and Jasper Parks.

(c) To provide for the inclusion in the Rocky Mountain Forest Reserve of 1,264 square miles of rough timbered, nonagricultural lands, which are being excluded from the Rocky Mountain and Jasper Parks.

Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, questioned if the Western Provinces had been consulted in regard to this proposal.

Mr. Stewart replied that the provinces had not been consulted but he felt that the bill would meet with their approval. Dominion Government examiners had been examining these lands and he was sure that the provinces did not want to be put to the trouble of looking over every quarter section.

POPE TO REVIEW MARTYR MIRACLES

VATICAN CITY, April 10.—Miracles attributed to the Canadian Martyr, eight French Jesuit missionaries killed by Indians during the seventeenth century, will be reviewed by the general congregation of the Pope. The review will be taken prior to decreeing the canonization of the eight martyrs due to be solemnized during June.

Labor Chief Has No Fear Of Red Rise

SAINT JOHN, N.B., April 10.—Mr. Tom Moore, of Ottawa, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, said today that he held no fears of a Communist uprising in Nova Scotia as referred to last night in the Nova Scotia Legislature, when Hon. Gordon Harrington read a copyright dispatch from The London Times, saying that Moscow plans to organize a revolutionary labor party in Canada to combat the Trades and Labor Congress and the Miners' Union, that they might take advantage of the disunion in Nova Scotia.

PEASANTS OF RUSSIA SHOW DISCONTENT

Reports of Uprisings, However, Are Discounted and Rumors Termed Inaccurate

(Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

VIENNA, Austria, April 10.—Obviously inspired reports from the Black Sea tend to raise the spectre of a Soviet menace. One rumor reports a peasant uprising in the Ukraine, with the Red Army at Tiraspol helping the atheists to block the way of Christians going to church, with resultant fighting before the portals of the cathedral.

Another report is that the British Admiral Henderson arrived in Bucharest and is discussing with the Rumanian Government plans for developing a naval base in the Black Sea to counterbalance the arrival of two Soviet battleships which recently passed through the Dardanelles.

PEASANTS UNEASY

There is undoubtedly unrest among the Russian peasants, but it would be an exaggeration to say that the Soviets are menacing Rumania, Poland, and the Soviet naval force in the Black Sea is mediocre, although the passing of two warships through the Dardanelles seems to be confirmed. The Russian Black Sea ships could not control the Black Sea.

There is no intention on the part of Rumania to provoke a conflict with the Soviets and the only changes the Rumanians have made in the national defense was to increase the gendarmerie along the frontier.

Rumanians shake their heads when asked about the future possibilities of their relations with the Soviets, but declare they have no apprehensions for the present and see no cause for alarm nor necessity for increasing the army or navy.

RATES CUT IN PART OF AREA

Saanich Insurance Premiums Reduced as Answer to Improved Fire Protection

LOCAL AGENTS AID RESULTS

A reduction of fire insurance rates in the protected parts of Saanich, ranging from 10 to 25 per cent according to location, has been effected dating from April 1 last.

Mr. D. A. S. McGregor, district manager of the British Columbia Insurance Underwriters' Association, announced yesterday.

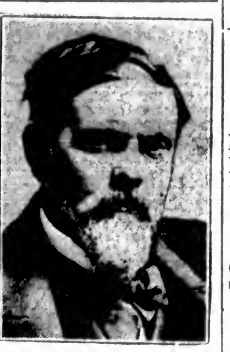

The Victoria District Fire Insurance Association during the past twelve months has been working with the British Columbia Insurance Underwriters' Association for a revision of the fire insurance rates in the municipality of Saanich.

Approached Revere William Crouch and the Saanich Council and, working with the assistance of Mr. R. F. Sewell, municipal clerk, and Mr. C. H. Brown, fire chief, the rates were reduced.

Resident Drivers Fail to Observe Arterial By-Law

The regulation requiring automobiles to stop before entering an arterial highway is not being observed as it should be by residents on Rockland Avenue, it was stated by one of the commissioners at yesterday's meeting of the police board.

Under the by-law, cars driven out on into the street from garages are required to stop in the same manner as if they were crossing from an intersecting street, but many complaints were received, it was said, of their failure to do so.

Commissioner Stenland pointed out that neglect to stop before entering upon the street was even more dangerous in these cases than when cars were proceeding along an intersecting street. Some of the guilty of it, he said, were apparently residents who had requested that the avenue be made an arterial highway.

Other commissioners agreed and expressed the hope that if in the press report of the meeting, attention were drawn to the need for pausing as the by-law directed, greater care might be exercised.

TROUBLE OVER HEAD OF NEW WORLD-BANK

Germany Dislikes French Manager, but May Get Compensations in Other Departments

EXPECT DIFFICULTY WILL BE SMOOTHED

By EDGAR ANSEL MOWDER
(Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

BERLIN, Germany, April 10.—Although the expected appointment of M. Pierre Quénouy, of the Bank of France, to the management of the new Bank for International Settlements, which is expected to be opened about May 1 in Basel, still causes heartburn in Germany. It is possible that the Germans will be satisfied by "compensations" in other departments.

The Germans would have preferred the entire management of the bank to be of neutral nationality. They are satisfied by the appointment of Mr. Quénouy, of the Bank of France, to the presidency and Mr. Leon Poirer to one of the two vice-presidencies, but they are not satisfied to have a Frenchman as manager.

Premier MacDonald Announces to House Three Powers Agree

Five Powers Likely to Reach Certain Agreement But Great Britain, United States and Japan Are in Full Accord—Italy and France Will Continue Efforts to Reach Settlement

Security Pact to Be Left Over to League Decisions

By GEORGE HAMILTON
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 10.—After many weeks of negotiation the five great naval powers of the world reached an agreement tonight. There will be a five-power naval limitation agreement and three powers—Great Britain, the United States and Japan—will sign certain additional clauses to which the two Latin nations do not, at this time, feel they are able to subscribe. So there will be the two understandings, the partial arrangement of the five and the complete accord of the three. Political discussions regarding a security pact and definition of the guarantees provided by Article XVI of the League of Nations Covenant will be left for Geneva and the League.

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Ont., April 10.—The quantity of wheat in Canada on March 31 was 17,000,000 bushels less than a year ago. The volume remaining in farmers' hands was 45,524,000 bushels out of total stocks of 228,835,000 bushels. On March 31, 1929, the amount remaining in farmers' hands was 64,164,000 bushels out of total stocks of 245,952,000 bushels. These figures are contained in a report issued today at the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

CONCERNING GRAIN

Of the total estimated wheat crop of 299,520,000 bushels in 1929, 278,000 bushels or 93 per cent had proved to be of merchantable quality. Last year the percentage was 95.

After deducting seed and food requirements for the next four months and allowing 115,000,000 bushels as a carry over, the balance exportable is calculated by the bureau at 85,837,000 bushels.

Of oats, the total quantity in Canada on March 31, 1930, is estimated at 105,475,835 bushels, as compared with 189,222,442 bushels in 1929.

MINIMUM WAGE FOR JANITORIAL SERVICE SOUGHT

Application Is Made Under Male Minimum Wage Board for Award

TO BE CONSIDERED AT NEXT MEETING

Caretakers, janitors and night watchmen have petitioned the Male Minimum Wage Board for a minimum wage under British Columbia's Male Minimum Wage Act, Mr. J. D. McNeill, Deputy Minister of Labor, and chairman of the board, stated yesterday.

The applicants have requested that an inquiry be made with a view to making a regular award as to the wages to be paid this class of employment. The petitioners base their claims on long hours and low pay.

Mr. McNeill said that no action had been taken as yet with the applicants, but intimated that the matter would receive the board's consideration at its meeting next week.

The Male Minimum Wage Board has received the order of the courts to begin an investigation into the wages of drug clerks in the province, the courts having held that the board must adjudicate on the wages received by such employees.

At its next meeting the board will decide when it will hold public inquiries throughout the province in respect to the wages of drug clerks, Mr. McNeill declared.

The Male Minimum Wage Board is composed of Mr. J. D. McNeill, of Victoria, chairman; Mr. George H. Cowan, K.C., of Vancouver, and Mr. Adam W. Bell, of Nanaimo.

Eczema on Hands. Unable to Work. Healed by Cuticura.

"Eczema broke out on my face and was in the form of a rash. I used to scratch it and the irritation was sometimes unbearable. The eczema spread to my hands and I was unable to do my regular work or put my hands in water for over a month. They were so sore that I wore rubber gloves when I did any work. I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment so purchased some. After the first application I got relief and in two months I was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. William Coward, R. LABOR BILL NOW IN ITS LAST STAGE bill was designed to satisfy commitments made by Canada in 1919. In that year the Dominion had been represented at the first International Labor Conference of the League of Nations. Mr. Bennett favored the principle of the measure.

Agreement with the general principle of the bill was expressed by Mr. E. J. Garfield, U.S. Senator from Ohio. He felt that the legislation should have been introduced long ago. The day of long hours had been a factor, and a major one, in industrial accidents. Every industry in Canada, said Mr. Garfield, would be well advised to follow the example of the Government and adopt the eight-hour day.

Another reason why the action of the Government should meet with approval was that the national honor was at stake. Canada has subscribed to the principle of the eight-hour day and she should implement her obligation.

"How about hospital orderlies?" asked Mr. Garfield. There were many other employees in the service who apparently would not come under the contract provisions of the bill.

ALL ARE COVERED

The Prime Minister interjected that all classes of Federal employees would be covered. Mr. Garfield expressed satisfaction with this. He went on to ask whether something could not be done for the employees engaged to work by postmasters at certain points in the Dominion. For instance, he said, in the town of Drumheller, Alberta, employees in the postoffice, were expected to work twelve hours, with one hour intermission at lunch and only twenty-five minutes for the meal. A number of these employees had found it necessary to take medical advice, and the medical opinion was that working hours and conditions were responsible for their ill-health. He asked if something could not be done for these indirect employees.

WOULD AFFRONT FRANCE. International circles answer that Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, former president of the Reichsbank, through his reluctance to agree to Brussels as the seat of the bank and his opposition to the bank itself, crystallized the situation against further concessions to German wishes.

To refuse M. Quesey today, after his name has been mentioned for over a year for the management, would, they say, be a gratuitous affront to France and would raise all the stupid questions of national prestige which the new bank wishes to avoid.

It is therefore suggested that Germany ask for the resignation of vice-presidency and the management of one of the four departments. The Americans declare that the new bank will not be along European lines, according to which the manager or director is virtually supreme, but will be the American style, "presidential bank." This means, they believe, that Mr. McGarrath will be boss in fact as well as in name, and that therefore even Mr. Quesey, to prove unreasonable "French" habits, could not be greater than that expected in an American bank by the chief cashier.

The Germans are not satisfied with this explanation, but they realize that their opposition to M. Quesey is starting too late and may decide to accept a vice-presidency if it is offered. In the meantime, it may be noted, will be represented on the bank staff only by a single department head.

Superintendents Of Police To Be Dispensed With

VANCOUVER, April 10.—Instructions to discontinue the services of two police superintendents were given to Chief of Police W. J. Bringham by the police commission this morning at the secret meeting which followed the ordinary session of commissioners. The board's action, it was stated, was ordered in view of the necessity of reducing expenditures of the police department this year.

The board did not set the date for retirement of the officers or specifically name which two of the three positions will be abolished.

Finding of Pack Leads to Belief Trapper Is Lost

(Associated Press) CORDOVA, Alaska, April 10.—Finding of a pack on a trail near here, belonging to Benjamin French, pioneer trapper, who has been missing several weeks, was reported here today. The discovery has added to fears that the trapper may have met with disaster, as no other trace of the men or his sleds or dogs has been located since he left his home near Dickey Lake, on the Richardson Highway some time ago.

He and Harry Hobson, trappers, left here to search for French.

Heat Wave Felt In Chicago and In Middle West

(Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 10.—Chicago and the Middle West perspired today from temperatures which sent the mercury to new heights for so early in the season.

With memories of the recent all-time record fresh in their minds, Chicagoans doffed topcoats and vests and turned on their electric fans as the mercury soared to 80 at 3 p.m., setting an all-time April heat record.

Many other Middle Western cities reported heat records for so early in the season were broken. St. Louis reported 82, Milwaukee 80, Omaha 82, Peoria 82 and Des Moines and Dubuque, Ia., 82.

The total quantity of barley in Canada on March 31, 1930, was 44,853,819 bushels, as compared with 49,222,878 bushels in 1929.

The quantity of rye in Canada on last year was 11,089,241 bushels, as compared with 6,671,777 bushels in 1929.

Atlantic and Quebec Provinces report all wintered well and forecast encouraging prospects for 1930. Condition of livestock is good in Ontario, with prices for cattle good.

Feed scarcity is reported in many Manitoba districts, particularly of hay and oats. Condition of livestock, however, is fair.

IN THE WEST

Saskatchewan—Feed has been scarce in many districts as a result of the long and somewhat severe winter. The condition of livestock varies in different districts, depending on the available feed supply. Several districts report livestock in fair or poor condition.

Alberta—The generally favorable winter helped to bring livestock through in fairly good condition, in spite of the feed scarcity which exists in many districts.

British Columbia—Horses are in fair condition, but prices low and outlook poor. The condition and prices of cattle are reported as good, with the outlook good. Sheep and swine are in good condition, with fair prices and the outlook good.

Some winter killing of clover and alfalfa reported. Okanagan tree fruits show promise of early harvest, the crop will likely be heavier than last year. Small fruits in all districts will possibly be lighter than last year. The acreage of potatoes and tomatoes will likely be larger and that of onions smaller.

ens for sale, or white cheese or sour cream, or others offer rice, rice, carrots, beets, garden seeds, green herbs and pickles.

This list of items may sound trivial in America, but it is a list of high importance to all residents of this capital. While in some instances the articles sold on the streets are cheaper than they are in the state stores, the contrary is the true, street merchants asking much more than the state prices for the same grades.

Altogether the appearance of the streets of Moscow is decidedly brighter than it was a month ago, due mostly to the new policy. However, the spring of spring is helping the melting snow and bringing hangers of Summer. Everywhere peddlers are offering yellow mimosa, bright suggestive of California, while devout old ladies bear pussy willows to church, many of which are still open despite the anti-religious crusade. Dyes for Easter eggs also contribute a dash of color.

Australia Goes Too Far in Its Tariff Imposts

(Canadian Press) WINNIPEG, Man., April 10.—Australia has gone a little too far in imposition of tariffs, in the opinion of Sir Mark Sheldon, president of the Chamber of Commerce of Australia, who passed through Winnipeg today en route to the Coast. Some of the new tariffs, he mentioned, are virtually prohibitions of certain imports.

The country has gone too far in creating a protective tariff, he believed, to be able to participate in an Empire free trade scheme.

ELECT NEW OFFICERS

VERNON, B.C., April 10.—The Vernon Business Men's Association has elected the following officers for the year: Messrs. R. Peters, president; W. H. Grant, vice-president; S. Orimason, George Jacques and F. H. Tennant, executives, and H. P. Coombes, secretary-treasurer.

Naval Parity Means Step Towards Making Assured The Peace of the World

also in the international sphere.

SELF-CONTAINED NATION

The speaker saw the United States as a more or less self-contained nation, yet one whose sea-borne commerce was of such dimensions that a great navy was needed.

He found parity with the United States would help peace and work for more peaceful relations. The growth and the retention of Canada, he said, in the United States, generally, in regard to Great Britain had improved greatly within the last few years and frank admission of parity had cleared the air.

Dr. Wright traced the influence of sea-power upon the acquisition of world unity. It might not have been so in the United States, he said, by the British Crown. He saw a new era of international relations, with peoples far less isolated than formerly and science drawing together the nations. The League of Nations was one expression of a world stretching towards the ideal of world unity.

In the remote case of war with the United States, Professor Wright pointed out naval parity meant that the seaports of Canada, hitherto protected by Great Britain in other wars, would be at the mercy of the United States fleet and Canada's seagoing commerce could be ended by her southern neighbor almost in a second.

CANADA HELPLESS

Canada might be offered the role of neutrality but she would be helpless, in any case, against a nation with twelve times her population and Great Britain would probably be relieved to see Canada neutral, for she could not help her. "But," warned Professor Wright, "Canada has no constitutional power to declare neutrality. It is the King, the head of our Government, as he is the head of Great Britain's Government, who declares war or makes peace, and when he declares war, we, not less than Great Britain, are at war."

Dr. Wright was convinced, however, that the minds of the nations were far from war for the extent of the ruin involved in war was realized. The ideal of conciliation was abroad and with faith much might be done towards fellowship in the world.

NEED NO LEADERS

In a letter to a friend today, Gandhi referred to the arrest of civil disobedience leaders in the Gujarati district, and said the instructions that volunteers should not surrender their contraband salt "even if their wrists are broken."

"Whether all can do this or not only experience can show," he said, "but faith can move mountains. The people may weaken if they like but they should not abuse or injure officers and should go to jail cheerfully."

"Our object is to prevent as far as possible our salt from getting into the possession of the Government and to distribute it to every house and village."

IS GIVEN MONEY

A deputation from the Bombay Stock Exchange visited the Mahatma this morning and presented him with 2,000 rupees (about $720). Gandhi promised to visit Bombay shortly to infuse enthusiasm into the people there, and he urged them to boycott foreign cloth and break the chains of foreign domination.

From Patan tonight came word that four men had been sentenced to prison for violating the salt laws in the Saran district.

Meanwhile, collection of illicit salt in numerous parts of Gujarat is continuing.

The social boycott of Government officials in several areas of that state is growing more intense.

Pleaded Guilty To Long List of Breaches of Law

VANCOUVER, April 10.—A plea of guilty was entered by Charles Johnson in police court this morning to fourteen charges of breaking and entering, and one charge of dealing with a forged document.

Johnson, who is a registered peddler, was charged with breaking and entering between December 28 and March 23, 1929, and with dealing with a forged document.

Goods valued at several hundred dollars have been recovered following the arrest.

Force Elevators To Accept Grain If Room Exists

(Canadian Press) OTTAWA, Ont., April 10.—Elevator operators are compelled to take in grain submitted to them by farmers when they have accommodation for it, under a clause in the new grain act approved by the committee on agriculture and colonization today. They are not to be permitted to reserve storage space for customers in advance, but must take in grain as it is offered as long as they have room.

Discussion of the provision raised the question of the discretion of the elevator operator to refuse damp or smutty grain. Some members of the committee thought they should not be required to accept grain unsuitable for storage, thereby tying up storage facilities and preventing the movement of good grain. This question was left to stand over until a section covering it could be prepared and submitted to the committee.

BANK OF ENGLAND RESERVE GROWING

LONDON, April 10.—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes in pounds: Total reserve increased 1,871,000; circulation increased 1,885,000; bullion increased 2,866,000; other securities decreased 2,666,000; public deposit decreased 2,008,000; other deposits increased 1,717,000; notes reserve increased 1,668,000; Government securities increased 2,305,000.

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability is 52.55 per cent, compared with 50.46 per cent last week.

Rate of discount is 2 1/2 per cent.

"I will take this suit if you will make any alterations I require."

"Certainly we will. All alterations."

"Well, just alter this price from $90 to $40, and I'll take it."

STOCK BUYERS IN VICTORIA WIN VERDICT

Judgment Is Given Against Creditors of Ahlburg Gasoline Corporation of California

NO CONTRACT FOR SHARES RECEIVED

Victoria owners of fully paid-up shares in the Ahlburg Gasoline Corporation of California cannot be compelled by the creditors of the corporation to make further payments in order to clear off the debts of that firm, it was decided in a judgment handed down yesterday in Supreme Court by Mr. Justice Murphy.

This verdict is the result of a test suit brought by the creditors against Mr. A. T. Goward, one of seventy-four Victoria purchasers of stock in the corporation. Plaintiffs alleged that, the assets of the company not being sufficient to meet its liabilities, all persons owning shares were liable to be called upon to pay the balance due the creditors, each in proportion to the amount of stock held by him, and were in this respect in a position similar to that of members of a partnership. The corporation was not a limited liability company and at the time of its formation limited liability companies were not provided for by the laws of California. Plaintiffs contended that the case must be decided upon solely according to the law of California.

The judgment holds (1) that the law of British Columbia must be considered, and that if it is considered the claim of the plaintiff fails; (2) that even if the case were decided solely by the law of California, the action would fail.

CURIOUS RESULTS

"Curious results," the judgment points out, "would follow if the liability contended for existed despite fraud. Not only would the defrauded defendant have his liability increased because of the fraud, not only would the person guilty of fraud be relieved of any liability imposed upon him because of the ownership of the shares he fraudulently disposed of, after the date of such disposal, but the guilty party could in some cases actually use the defrauded defendant to recover money which had been paid to him by said defendant."

"The case at bar is an instance, Ahlburg sold defendant his own shares when he knew (or in any event he knows now) that defendant intended to purchase treasury shares. The evidence is that Ahlburg handed over defendant's money to the corporation in such a way as to make him (Ahlburg) a creditor of the company for the amount paid by defendant for Ahlburg's shares."

BRITISH COLUMBIA LAW

On the question whether the case should be decided solely according to the law of California, the judgment says, in part:

"In my opinion, this court must determine according to the law of British Columbia whether or not the defendant herein must be taken by implied authority to have contracted with plaintiffs to pay the whole or a part of their claim."

And, proceeding to consider what verdict should be given under the law of British Columbia, the judgment says, in part:

"If the ordinary principles of contract are applied to the facts as found, then no contract whereby defendant became a shareholder ever came into existence. He did not get what he bargained for. He did not receive what he did get from the only legal entity with whom he intended to contract. Therefore no contract binding him resulted."

Defendant only became aware of the true facts in reference to the shares he was supposed to have acquired after the commencement of these proceedings. Thereupon he immediately repudiated ownership. If the law of British Columbia is to be applied, plaintiff's claim based on estoppel must, I think, also fail.

"No evidence was adduced that plaintiff gave credit to the corporation or in any way acted to its detriment because they were induced by the acts of defendant to believe he was a shareholder of the corporation. Under such circumstances estoppel would not arise under British Columbia law."

CALIFORNIA LAW

Dealing with the law of California as it would govern the case, the judgment says:

"If, as the plaintiff contends, the case must be decided according to the law of California only, in my opinion on the evidence before me the same result would follow."

"According to California law a contract for treasury shares cannot be satisfied by offering shares in the same corporation, which are not treasury shares. That point is in issue here if California law is to govern and if I am right in holding that under that law a stockholder's liability is contractual and consequently dependent on the agency of the corporation which agency in turn depends on whether he is a stockholder or not."

"Further on the proven facts the defendant could not under uncontested California law become the purchaser of shares direct from the corporation, i.e., treasury shares, which is the only transaction he ever intended to enter into; because it is admitted by plaintiffs that no shares were issued to him by the corporation under the permit which it is a condition precedent under California law the corporation must have and with the terms of which it must comply to clothe it with capacity to sell treasury shares to anyone."

"Any dealing with its shares by the corporation in contravention of those stipulations is void. (Montgomery's evidence and cases cited by him.)"

"I would therefore hold that defendant on the proven facts never was a stockholder in the corporation under the law of California because no contract ever came into existence constituting him such."

Legislature of Saskatchewan Is Ended for Year

(Canadian Press)

REGINA, Sask., April 10.—After a session lasting thirty-nine actual working days the second session of the seventh Legislature of Saskatchewan was brought to a close at 3:06 o'clock this morning, after His Honor Lieut.-Gov. Newlands had given royal assent to fifty-one bills. It had been a long and exceptionally strenuous session, conspicuous for the fact that the opposition was, in voting strength, but little behind the Government. Practically every bill brought into the House found stormy passage. At all 101 new bills were introduced to the House, and of these but one was withdrawn from the Government, all the others having been finally endorsed by the Legislative Assembly. In addition, ten private bills were passed.

Plan Income Tax In Australia to Relieve Jobless

(Canadian Press Cable via Reuters)

SYDNEY, N.S.W., April 10.—A rate of six cents on five dollars is expected to be the levy which Premier F. R. Davin of New South Wales has proposed should be placed on incomes in order to continue Government and private construction of an unproductive nature, in order to alleviate unemployment. Such a rate would result in funds of $7,500,000 a year, it is expected. There will probably be a higher percentage on salaries of more than $2,000 yearly, and rent receipts and other forms of income will be taxed, bringing the total revenue in this regard to about $15,000,000.

MEXICAN LEADER ATTACKS STATES

Defeated for Presidency He Touts Country Trying to Gain Opinion Against the United States

By JENNIE S. WOOD

(Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service.)

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, April 10.—Professor Jose Vasconcelos, who since his defeat for President and his flight from Mexico, has started lecturing as "master of the youth of America," delivered his second local tirade against the United States and Mexico last night and, according to his publicity agent, will continue to lecture against the United States in Salvador and possibly Guatemala. In the latter country the possibility of fomenting violence is bright on account of its present frontier controversy with Mexico.

Senor Vasconcelos either does not know Mexican history or intentionally is falsifying it. According to his thesis, nothing has ever been right in Mexico, nor will be until national affairs are put into his hands.

Regarding the United States, Senor Vasconcelos says: "The treason which brought the assassination of President Francisco Madero was plotted in the Embassy of the United States by Ambassador Harry Lane Wilson over wine cups. De La Huerta, under pressure from the United States, had left Mexico before war was declared in Europe. Senor Vasconcelos praised the fine roads, schools and sanitation of Panama, where he lectured before coming here, explaining Panama's progress as being all due to Spanish culture and its escape from the yoke of the United States. Here he warned Costa Rica not to get into brawny disputes with Panama, both countries having refused to accept the award of Chief Justice Edward D. White, of the United States Supreme Court, but his advice did not meet with the approval of the local audience."

A gesture of admiration is hereby made in the direction of P. G. Wodehouse, who is leaving for Hollywood on a contract obliging him to shoot a little humor into someone's movies. The story goes that at a party one night a lady who regards his funniness as the highest form of art, but who on this occasion was somewhat grumpy, was asked her opinion of the Wodehouse stuff.

"Rotten!" said she. "A gentleman across the table smiled and bowed."

"I think so, too," said he. "I'm Wodehouse."

Farmers Unable To End Ice Jam Fearing Floods

WINNIPEG, Man., April 10.—Tolling central Manitoba farmers today strove to blast aside the towering ice-jam in the Assiniboine River which threatens to flood the lowlands near Poplar Point, forty miles west of Winnipeg. Abandoned at darkness last night, dynamiting efforts proved unable to dislodge the mass of frozen cakes crowded twenty feet high in a sharp curve in the river.

Today, with the water creeping higher, dynamite was still being applied to the blockade in the hope floodtide is reached. No extensive that the river might run free before damage has been reported as yet, though houses have been abandoned and two bridges have been washed out; railway and auto traffic has been rerouted.

Hundreds of acres along a ten-mile stretch of the Assiniboine are in danger of being inundated if the jam is not released promptly.

FINE WAR RECORD BRINGS LENIENCY

War Veteran With Distinguished Career Gets Light Sentence for Selling Opium

VANCOUVER, April 10.—Because of a distinguished war record, leniency was extended by Judge Cayley in county court to John Bishop, who was found guilty of selling opium.

The minimum sentence of six months imprisonment, a fine of $200, or in default an additional two months, was imposed by His Honor. Bishop lost his right arm at Amiens in 1918 by an anti-tank shell. He was decorated with the D.C.M., according to A. L. Rodway, of the supreme court registry staff, who was invited to give character evidence for the prisoner. Bishop was known as one of the best soldiers in Col. H. S. Tobin's battalion, and had been recommended for the Victoria Cross.

Through a special agent, Harry Joseph, R.C.M. police, caught Bishop in the act of selling thirteen tins of opium at the rear of the Grand Hotel, 24 Cordova Street. Joseph had paid him with $400 marked money, which was recovered.

John A. McDonald, jointly charged with Bishop, was acquitted by His Honor. McDonald, or McEachern, as he is called, was returned to New Westminster penitentiary, where he is serving a three-year term imposed by Judge Barker last week in Nanaimo for attempting to blow the safe of Brakman-Ker Milling Company's warehouse in Nanaimo.

P.E.I. House Is Prorogued After Short Session

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., April 10.—The Prince Edward Island Legislature prorogued yesterday afternoon after being in session since March 11.

Bills given assent by Lieutenant-Governor F. R. Hertz include a new Audit Act and acts to establish a provincial police force, to provide for a reference on education, to prevent fraud in the sale of securities, and an act regarding travel on the public highways.

SPRING FLOWER SHOW PLANS READY
Special Appeal Will Be Made to Younger People at Flower Display

In order to encourage the young people who are interested in flower growing two special prizes are being offered at the fourth annual Spring Flower Show, which will be held by the Vancouver Island Horticultural Association at the Willows on April 25 and 26.

One is the school display, and the Challenge Shield will go to the best display of three or more varieties of narcissus on a staging four by three feet in size. This is open to any school and is being presented by Mr. and Mrs. Palmer, of Cobble Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer are noted for the artistic displays they set up at all the flower shows, and they expect that the younger generation will learn the art of artistic flower arrangement.

The other is the Scouts and Guides display, and the prize will go to the most original display of flowers or plants, or both, in a space four feet by four feet, and is open to any unit of Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, Wolf Cubs or Brownies. This prize is being given by Rockhome Gardens, Limited.

There will be prizes, too, for bird houses, garden photographs and many other things open to persons under seventeen years of age.

Drowning Case Subject Of Coroner's Inquest
The coroner's jury inquiring into the death of William James Burns, two-year-old son of Mr. Thomas Burns, 248 Michigan Street, whose body was found in the harbor near the British America Paint Company wharf Tuesday afternoon, returned a verdict of "found drowned."

After hearing the story of the deceased child's parents, in his charge to the jury, Coroner Hart said it was one of the unfortunate cases which happen every day, and it was impossible to guard children every moment of the day, and they often strayed considerable distances from home.

SAANICH BOARD APPROVES BUS FARE REVISION

Councillors Convinced of Justice of Appeal Presented by Vancouver Island Coach Lines

COMPANY GIVING SPLENDID SERVICE

Appreciating the splendid service supplied the various sections of the municipality by the Vancouver Island Coach Lines, the Saanich Council last night unanimously approved the revised schedules of fares pertaining to the Lake Hill, Burnside and George routes, recently submitted by the transportation company for its consideration.

On introducing the matter, Reeve Crouch stated that whenever a resident of the district had approached him with a complaint against the transportation company, if it were at all reasonable, it was immediately placed before the proper officials of the company; and he could say that these complaints had always been listened to attentively and measures instituted to remedy the conditions complained of without undue loss of time.

Representatives of the company present for the purpose of answering any questions the councillors might care to ask concerning the operation of the routes covered in the application for approval of a revision of rates, stated that it cost 23 to 25 cents per bus mile to operate on these routes, and that the Saanich roads were particularly hard on car upkeep and tires. The newly-imposed gasoline tax tended to work a further hardship, and the added tax on gross revenue did not improve the situation for the company, company had a fine record for the past year, and that the safe carrying of passengers, which meant high efficiency in car upkeep as well as faithful attention on the part of all employees. Last year 1,350,000 passengers had been transported without mishap.

The councillors were convinced of the justice of the request, and the revised rate schedule was approved on motion of Councillor Crouch, seconded by Councillor Eden.

Former Victoria Resident Dies in South Africa

Many old-time residents of Victoria will regret to hear of the death of Mrs. H. Hirschel-Cohen, of the death of eight years, which occurred at Johannesburg, South Africa, on February 23, and news of which was received here yesterday. Mrs. Hirschel-Cohen was a resident of Victoria from 1896 to 1900, during which time she was managing director of the Cassiar Central Railway Company. This company was later merged with the Victoria and Nanaimo Railway Company, and the old Victoria and Nanaimo Railway, subsequently destroyed by fire.

DEATH HELD ACCIDENTAL

Coroner's Jury Investigates Circumstances Surrounding Passing of Mr. J. R. Anderson

DRIVER OF CAR RELATES MISHAP

Accidental death, with no blame attached to the driver of the car, was the verdict returned yesterday afternoon by a coroner's jury investigating the circumstances surrounding the death of Mr. James R. Anderson, of 905 Cook Street, who was struck by a car at the intersection of Transit Road and Newport Avenue, Oak Bay, Wednesday evening about 10:45 o'clock and died immediately after. The inquest was held at the B.C. Funeral Parlors, with Dr. E. C. Hart, city coroner, presiding.

Dr. D. M. Baillie, the first witness called, told the jury that he was proceeding along Newport Avenue on his way home about 10:45 o'clock on Wednesday night, when, on approaching Transit Road, he saw a car drawn up close to the car line. Just at this point a man came out and stretched out his hands for him to stop. He told of finding the body of the late Mr. Anderson lying on the street car track a few yards in front of the parked car. Deceased was just expiring when he arrived. He had sustained a lacerated leg and abrasions around the face and head.

DRIVER HEARD
Mr. C. W. Lonsdale, of Shawanigan Lake, who was driving the ill-fated car at the time of the accident, was the next witness called.

"I was travelling down Newport Avenue from the Oak Bay Hotel to town about 10:40 o'clock," Mr. Lonsdale told the jury. "I was driving close to the car track as I could see another car approaching from the right, and I was about to pass it when I saw a man apparently standing close to the left hand side of my car about two feet from the left fender. He appeared suddenly to realize my proximity and ran directly in front of the car, being hit by the middle of the bumper. He was thrown to the right, clear of the car, and I immediately applied my brakes and stopped as soon as possible. I got out of my car, and, seeing the man lying on the ground, I stopped an approaching car, and asked bystanders to notify the police and send in an ambulance."

At this point, Mr. T. C. McNeil, foreman of the jury, asked Mr. Lonsdale if his brakes were in good condition, and he was informed that they were.

Constable Claydars, of the Oak Bay Police, was the next witness called. He testified to answering a call to police headquarters telling of an accident at the intersection of Transit Road and Newport Avenue. He told of finding the body of the late Mr. Anderson and Mr. Lonsdale's car. When asked if he found any skid marks, he said that there was a mark seven feet in length, evidently from a point where Mr. Anderson was hit to where Mr. Lonsdale stopped his car.

BRAKES IN PERFECT ORDER
Questioned as to whether he had examined the brakes and mechanism of Mr. Lonsdale's car, Constable Claydars stated that he had driven the car from the Oak Bay police station to the B.C. Funeral Parlors, and had found the brakes in perfect order, and the car in exceptionally good condition.

The jury retired about fifteen minutes and returned with a verdict of "accidental death."

The jury was composed of Mr. T. C. McNeil, foreman; Captain W. E. Tapley, and Messrs. G. C. Grant, Robert Musgrave, Robert Russell and Fred Peel.

Services Held At the Cathedral For Archdeacon

Impressive funeral services were held at Christ Church Cathedral yesterday morning for Ven. Gilbert Farquhar Davidson, late Archdeacon of Regina, who passed away at St. Joseph's Hospital on Saturday last after a brief illness.

The cortege left the B.C. Funeral Chapel at 11:15 o'clock, proceeding to the cathedral, where Very Rev. C. S. Quinlan, Dean of Columbia, and Ven. E. P. Laycock, Archdeacon of Columbia, officiated in the presence of many friends and representatives of the clergy. The hymn sung were "Abide With Me" and "Where the Light Forever Shines." The pallbearers were Rev. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick, Rev. Canon A. E. de L. Nunna, Rev. N. E. Smith, Rev. A. G. Munson, Rev. S. Ryall and Rev. F. C. Chapman. The Bishop of Columbia, who is in Europe, was represented by Ven. E. P. Laycock. Rev. Canon W. G. Stocken represented the Diocese of Calgary; and others present included Rev. J. S. A. Bastin, Rev. C. H. E. Cropper, Rev. O. L. Jull, Rev. J. W. Leighton, Rev. E. P. W. Carter and Mr. P. W. Blankenbach, lay secretary of the Synod of the Diocese of Columbia. The remains were forwarded on the afternoon boat to Regina, where services will be held, after which they will be conveyed to Guelph, Ontario, for interment.

INQUEST TODAY

An inquest into the death of William Walker, laborer, of Albert Head, who died on his way to St. Joseph's Hospital on Wednesday night after being wounded by pellets from a shotgun, will be held this morning at 10 o'clock at McCall's Funeral Parlors.

TWELVE-INCH WATER MAINS WILL BE LAID

Saanich Council Authorized Laying of Pipe on Wilkinson Road to Cost $4,500

GRANTS MADE TO VARIOUS BODIES

The Saanich Council last night authorized the laying of twelve-inch water mains on Wilkinson Road, to cost $4,500, the Crane Company being awarded a contract for the supplying of valves and the Leith-Murray Company the order for pipe.

A letter from the British Columbia Fire Underwriters' Association, stating that owing to the fact that two firemen were now on continuous duty at the firehall during the twenty-four-hour period, fire protection rates have been revised and would be effective as from April 1, 1930. The letter also stated that an increase had been made in this protected area, and two additional districts adjoining created; also a new district extending out 100 feet as Ten Mile Point had been formed.

Mr. R. F. Sewell, municipal clerk, informed the council that the rate in the area referred to would now be 65 cents, instead of $1.00, the old rate. The letter recommended that, as building increased, additional hydrants on suitable mains, not less than four inches, should be installed.

Mr. E. J. Hodgkinson wrote the council, protesting against the granting of permits for the building of automobile camps in the residential areas along the Gorge Road. Reeve Crouch thought the letter extremely timely, and it was agreed to take the matter up with the municipal solicitors and have the power of the council determined in the matter.

A petition from Mr. J. Brown and others was received and filed. They requested the grading of a portion of Doncaster Road.

The Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau wrote thanking the board for the grant of $400, and stated they were enclosing copies of articles published containing information regarding the Saanich Peninsula. The Victoria and Island Branch of the Navy League in Canada wrote the council, thanking its members for the support given in 1929, and asked for the same consideration in 1930. A grant of $25 was made.

The Victoria Day Celebration Committee wrote requesting a donation, and a grant of $100 was made. Councilor Crouch was named as the representative of Saanich on the celebration committee.

The council was requested to send representatives to the District of Columbia Jubilee Committee, formed to celebrate in 1931 the entry of British Columbia into Confederation. Reeve Crouch appointed Councilors Borden, Crouch and Woods to this body.

PART OF SUMAS LANDS PURCHASED

Manufacture of B.C. Tobacco May Proceed on Reclaimed Area

Approximately 2,600 acres in the Sumas reclamation scheme have been sold under the present selling campaign and this portion of the Government's holdings of 8,700 acres is being transferred to twenty-three private holders, who will proceed immediately with their development.

The David Spencer interests of Vancouver, have bought about 1,000 acres on the northern side of the lake bottom, on the new transportation highway now under construction. This land, it is understood, will eventually be used in the production of tobacco, following the success of this firm in manufacturing and selling the British Columbia product on an extensive scale.

The land is being sold, however, for the most part, in forty and sixty-acre blocks, to meet the anxious to use it for mixed farming.

The Department of Agriculture is preparing to sow clover on the unsold land at the eastern side of the area, but expects this will be disposed of before the end of the present season.

It is understood that a reduction in the existing price of $120 per acre in the case of inferior lands would result in the purchase of some four hundred acres immediately for tobacco growing.

At the present rate of sale it is believed that the entire lake bottom area, now on the Government's hands, will be sold during the present season, thus creating at Sumas one of the most important single agricultural centres in British Columbia.

Vancouver Shipping Heavy During March

VANCOUVER, April 10.—Nearly 1,000,000 net tons of commercial shipping entered the port of Vancouver during the month of March, according to Mr. W. D. Harris, secretary of the Vancouver Board of Harbor Commissioners, in his regular monthly report on shipping.

This movement consisted of 1,909 arrivals, the exact tonnage being 966,288 tons. Deep-sea arrivals of 106 vessels, totaling 403,856 net tons. Local coastwise arrivals of 1,803 vessels, totaling 562,432 net tons. Foreign coastwise movements were 129 arrivals, net tonnage of 181,878.

Draw for Places At Festival Set For Monday

The Victoria Musical Festival is to be free from any possibility of partiality. In pursuance of this policy the committee has decided to have the placings in the competitions carried out by a system of drawing in full view of the public.

Three little girls, Jean Beckwith, Betty Muncy and Nan Wilson, will draw the gummy slips contained in envelopes from the three receptacles. These receptacles will be the championship rose bowl and two of the principal trophies, into which the envelopes will be placed before mixing.

The drawing will be done in the store window of Messrs. Davis & King, 1100 Douglas street, at 10 o'clock on Monday next. Members of the committee will supervise proceedings and as the names are drawn they will be immediately entered up.

GIFTED MUSICIAN CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Aitken, Wife of Major G. G. Aitken, Succumbed to Long Illness—Born in Ontario

A gifted musician, who on more than one occasion has been called "Victoria's Musical Club," Mrs. Aitken, wife of Major G. G. Aitken, of 2000 Beach Drive, died at her home in Victoria on Monday, April 7, at the age of 68.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Warner, of Bracebridge, Ont. Mrs. Aitken was born in McLean Township, near the Lake of Simcoe, Muskoka Lake, Ontario. She spent her early girlhood in Bracebridge, and attended the public school, high school and model school there.

She began to study music when she was sixteen and by the time she was eighteen she had passed with honors the Junior and Senior examinations of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, having by this time also secured her junior matriculation, normal school entrance and model school certificate.

For two years she lived at home, teaching music, engaging in occasional concert work and playing the piano in the church. Her health failed before she succeeded in finishing the final year in the music bachelors' course at Trinity College, Toronto, where she passed the two years' training in this, and tied for highest standing, also, in a separate examination, finishing the Victoria and Island Branch of the Navy League in Canada wrote the council, thanking its members for the support given in 1929, and asked for the same consideration in 1930. A grant of $25 was made.

The Victoria Day Celebration Committee wrote requesting a donation, and a grant of $100 was made. Councilor Crouch was named as the representative of Saanich on the celebration committee.

The council was requested to send representatives to the District of Columbia Jubilee Committee, formed to celebrate in 1931 the entry of British Columbia into Confederation. Reeve Crouch appointed Councilors Borden, Crouch and Woods to this body.

The David Spencer interests of Vancouver, have bought about 1,000 acres on the northern side of the lake bottom, on the new transportation highway now under construction. This land, it is understood, will eventually be used in the production of tobacco, following the success of this firm in manufacturing and selling the British Columbia product on an extensive scale.

The land is being sold, however, for the most part, in forty and sixty-acre blocks, to meet the anxious to use it for mixed farming.

The Department of Agriculture is preparing to sow clover on the unsold land at the eastern side of the area, but expects this will be disposed of before the end of the present season.

It is understood that a reduction in the existing price of $120 per acre in the case of inferior lands would result in the purchase of some four hundred acres immediately for tobacco growing.

At the present rate of sale it is believed that the entire lake bottom area, now on the Government's hands, will be sold during the present season, thus creating at Sumas one of the most important single agricultural centres in British Columbia.

WILL CONTINUE MOTOR BUSES

Royal Blue Line Tours Will Carry On in Spite of Recent Failure of Proposed Legislation

THANKS COUNCIL FOR ITS SUPPORT

"Our intentions are to continue to operate a motor bus service to and from the Municipality of Oak Bay, with the support of your council to give us all the protection possible from competitive transportation companies."

The above is the policy of the Royal Blue Line Motor Tours, with regard to the bus situation in Oak Bay, as expressed in a letter to the Oak Bay Council last evening, in answer to an inquiry as to the effect of the rejection of an exclusive franchise validation by the Legislature last session.

The company, through Mr. H. L. Sanger, president, tendered its thanks to Reeve Hayward and members of the council for the hearty support accorded during the consideration of the bill.

PAY TRIBUTE TO NOTED CANADIANS

Authors' Club Commemorates Miss Marjorie Pickthall, Mme. Albani and Mr. J. R. Anderson

Following their annual custom of commemorating the late Miss Marjorie Pickthall, for some years before her death a Victoria resident, the Victoria branch of the Canadian Authors' Association last evening devoted the major part of its April meeting to a discussion of this well-known writer's life and work.

The commemorative character of the occasion was emphasized by the interesting reminiscences of the late Mrs. Albani, given by Mr. W. B. Langman, who as a boy at Chambly Canton, Quebec, had frequently met the famous cantatrice. And Mr. F. S. Pemberton, as a lifetime friend of the late Mr. J. R. Anderson, moved that the club go on record as expressing its regret at the passing of one who had left a valuable contribution to British Columbia and Vancouver Island history. As Deputy Minister of Agriculture he had written a great deal which had political as well as natural history value. Mr. John Hohe noted that Mr. Anderson's memoirs would shortly be published by the Ryerson Press. Toronto, and would prove of great interest to all students of early Victoria history.

Dr. A. O. Macrae, the president, in the chair, and introduced two gifted young musicians, Miss Ethel Bale, who recited "St. Ives Poor," and Miss Noel Cusack, who sang selections from Marjorie Pickthall's "The Water Carver's Wife."

The expressive gifts of these two artists drew from the president the comment that he had many years ago noted the peculiarly pleasing quality and enunciation of the Victoria musicians. During the evening Mrs. Corbett, accompanied by Mrs. Fred Wright, sang "Duna," the appealingly beautiful lyrics of which, by Marjorie Pickthall, were set to music by Josephine McGill. Werrenrath had listed this. Mr. Donald Fraser told the audience, as one of the two most-asked-for songs in his repertoire, the other greatest favorites being Tosti's "Good-bye."

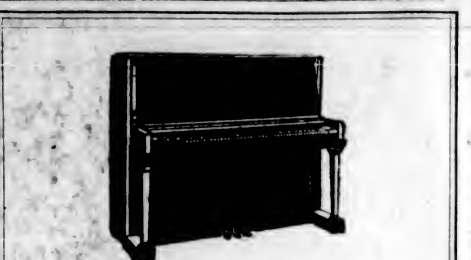

To Mr. Lewis Wharton, an author now permanently resident in Victoria, fell the honor of expressing a tribute to the work of Marjorie Pickthall. The element in her writing which set it apart and gave it a special distinction was, he thought, its profoundly spiritual quality, its poetry of search and its translation of the world of the spirit into the world of the flesh. He felt that it was a dream-world of her own. Her early death was a great loss to Canadian literature, for had she lived (she died at thirty-six) she would undoubtedly have accomplished great things.

As an example of her singular gifts as a poet, Mr. Wharton read some of Miss Pickthall's "Mother in Egypt," verses based on the lines from Exodus, "Even unto the first born of the maid servant behind the mill," and which showed the author's profound sense of the grief which may come to the humble mother in the novel as well as to the dweller in the palace. Unlike the poetry of Rupert Brooke, however, Marjorie Pickthall's conveyed little sense of violent resentment against apparent injustice. Among those present who knew Miss Pickthall personally were Messrs. Hohe, Pemberton and Fraser and Miss Perry, Mrs. Henderson and Mrs. Ebbes-Cavanagh.

Mr. Langman recalled the late Mrs. Albani, first as a neighbor of his father's at Chambly Canton, Quebec, when she was Mme. Marie Emma Gye, later as "a very charming old lady." It was not to be wondered at that the French-Canadians, a people inherently musical, had produced a Madame Albani. Quebec, the speaker claimed, was the only province in the Dominion that had a long history of romance and chivalry behind it. After some further reminiscences of the famous singer, Mr. Langman read Drummond's poem, "When Albani Sings," which he prefaced with the interesting statement that Drummond, while popular with the English-Canadians, was not such a favorite with the French-Canadians, who recognized themselves in caricature in his verses.

LINEN RECEIVED AT ORPHANAGE

Annual Shower Brings Worthwhile Contribution for Orphanage

The annual linen shower was held at the Protestant Orphan's Home yesterday afternoon, when a considerable amount of most welcome linen in the form of sheets, pillowslips and towels was received by the committee. An opportunity was given of inspecting the home, which was attractively arranged with a profusion of spring flowers everywhere. Mrs. R. T. Elliott, Mrs. P. V. Longstaff and the matron, Mrs. Harris, received the guests, and Mrs. Dinmore, Mrs. Dillabough and Mrs. Calvert acknowledged the donations. The dining-room, in which tea was served, was arranged with a long central table, which was presided over by Mrs. A. McKeown, Mrs. J. O. Simpson, Mrs. Oliver Brown and Mrs. C. Edwards. Great bowls of daffodils and narcissi, combined with erythroniums, made effective decorations, and tall green candles burned in low glass scones. Assisting during the tea hour were three little girls of the home, who are domestic science pupils at the North Ward School and who were most useful assistants: Alveda Smith, Jenny Drever and Joyce Hobson.

The donations were as follows: Clothing, Mrs. Ballthrup, Byrdie and Lewis Eilers; jam, Mrs. Loudon; fruit, Mrs. Brocklebank; fancy biscuits, Mrs. McNally; bedspreads, Mrs. G. A. Sheppard; face cloths, Miss Margaret Hughes, Miss Sayles.

GUILD TO PRESENT TRIPLE BILL TONIGHT

Mimes and Masquers Will Give Initial Performance at Shrine Hall

The fact that the dramatic season is drawing to a close gives all the more incentive to the Mimes and Masquers' Guild to produce successfully their programme of three one-act plays at the Shrine Auditorium this evening.

The play "Bham," by Frank Gerow Tompkins, which appears first on the programme, is a clever satire on the modern tendency to "preserve an appearance" by artificial means. The play ends on a delightful note which shows that even a burglar might have a sense of dignity which, when ruffled, takes much soothing.

The part of the burglar is played by Mr. Fraser Lister, who is well known in the University Players' Club. The occupants of the house are played by Mrs. Hetherington, who has appeared in connection with other local plays, and Mr. Max Maynard, who started his acting as a member of the High School Dramatic Club. Mr. Claude Campbell, also of the Players' Club, completes the cast.

The next play—"A. A. Milne's 'The Boy Comes Home'—is also in lighter vein, yet its situations are by no means light. Mr. Hardie, as the testy old uncle, seeks to force his nephew, just returned from the war, into the jam business. Mr. Hurl gives a fine performance as the boy, Miss Cameron playing the part of his aunt. The cast is completed by Mrs. Hurl and Miss Patsy Robinson. In "The Guild members are striking an entirely different note. Directed by Mr. Percy Barr, the play traces step by step, the crushing dominance of a whaling captain, who refuses to let even his wife stand in the path of duty. The work of Miss Hope Leeming and Mr. Don MacDonald is exceptionally fine, both gripping the audience from their first entry. Mr. Bert Bailey plays the part of the second mate, Mr. Oswald the harpooner, Mr. Edgar Kidd the steward, and Cleaver Wilson the cabin boy.

The Guild performance starts at 8:30 p.m. evening, and all who would be interested in joining such an organization are urged to attend.

Visiting Seattle. Among out-of-town visitors for the recent dance recital in the Cornish Theatre, Cornish School, Seattle, were Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bostock, of Victoria, who were down to see their son, Kenneth, appear in several numbers with great success. Young Bostock is showing remarkable development in his dramatic work. "La Barriere," a Schumann waltz and some clever improvisations were among the numbers he appeared in.

A girl may wear a golf skirt and not play golf, or wear a bathing suit and not go near the water, but when she puts on a wedding gown, kld, she means business.

Today's Recipe

ANCHOVY TOAST—Six anchovies, two eggs, two ounces of butter and croutons of bread. Pound the anchovies with the hard-boiled egg yolks. Rub through a fine sieve. Cut some rounds of bread and fry in boiling fat. Spread with the mixture and sprinkle with white of the hard-boiled eggs chopped finely. Serve hot or cold—Prudence.

Wedding of Interest Is Held In Nanaimo

QUALICUM BEACH, April 10.—The wedding of Miss Lillian Jeanette McMaster, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. McMaster, who were some of the earliest settlers in Qualicum Beach, now of Coombs, B.C., to Mr. Russell T. Irvine, youngest son of Mrs. T. Irvine, of Cranford, Manitoba, was solemnized on Tuesday at 11 a.m., at the Pentecostal Church, Nanaimo. Rev. Joseph Hitchin officiating.

The ceremony was performed under an arch of spring flowers, centred with a suspended white bell. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers, plants and palms, the work of the young people of the church. Miss Ella Foster, of Coombs, played the wedding march. The bride was given away by her father, and Mr. Cyril Dockin, of Nanaimo, sang "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register. The bride was attired in an imported beaded gown in Alice blue with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of white roses, white lilies and maidenhair fern. She was escorted by her sister, Miss Gertrude McMaster, who wore an imported white beaded gown with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of white lilies, white lilies and maidenhair fern. Both bride and bridesmaid wore gold bracelets, which were worn at the marriage of their grandmother, sixty years ago.

The groom was supported by Mr. George Johnson, of Nanaimo. A reception was held in the reception-room of the church, and the table was decorated with daffodils, centred with a three-tier wedding cake. About thirty-six guests partook of the wedding feast. The bride and groom were well wished by the church and the young people of the church.

Both bride and groom were well wished by the church and the young people of the church.

Miscellaneous Shower

A delightful miscellaneous shower, under the auspices of the Daughters of England, Lodge Princess Alexandra No. 18, in honor of Miss Zeno Colewell, whose marriage takes place shortly, was held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Stockley, 484 Nelson Street, Esquimalt. The many pretty and useful gifts were conveyed in a huge basket, presented to the bride-elect by Miss Irene Stockley. Refreshments were served by Mrs. C. Smith and Mrs. Dent. The rooms were prettily decorated with pale green and yellow, the flower decorations being Easter lilies and daffodils. The invited guests under the auspices of Lake Hill Women's Institute, the hall had been decorated for the occasion with a profusion of daffodils. Mrs. Scott, the president, welcomed the guests, among whom were: Mrs. S. F. The most attractive home in the neighbourhood

HAPPY is the woman who by chance hears her home referred to as "the most attractive in the neighbourhood!"

Very often the difference between an ordinary house and one which excites instant admiration is merely a matter of paint. Your house... painted as you know it should be painted... will achieve new beauty and charm. You will take added pleasure in it; your children will be glad to call it "home."

Now's the time to decide upon spring painting. Bring to life this year those colour schemes which you have in the back of your mind. Outdoors and indoors, painting is easy and so engrossingly interesting that many make a hobby of it.

B-H "English" Paint and other allied B-H products enjoy an unsurpassed reputation for beauty of colour and uniformity of shade... for purity... for economy. There is a B-H dealer in your locality. Let him supply you with everything you need for painting this spring!

Speculation on the wisdom of buying coats short is at an end. The value of little jackets is firmly established in the style market. They are backed by the most eminent fashion authorities for formal and informal wear. However, it is still an item to arouse the sporting blood of the outdoor enthusiast. Two models sketched here today reveal how diversified in sartorial theme jackets may be, and at the same time obviate any chance of an error on the buyer's part.

Above is a green suede slip-over jacket, suggesting the cape theme with its rounded yoke closed by a metal slide fastener. The rather full long sleeves are drawn into a narrow tailored band at the wrist. A snug belt adds tailored distinction and the pockets provide practicality.

That the short lumber jacket is getting ready for spring activity is apparent by its appearance in models of various fabrics. Here it is fashioned of beige angora with bright blue pin dots. The lining of the jacket is of navy blue, which serves to accent the popularity of that color just now.

Two Smart Costumes for Tennis Wear

ON the left is a smart tennis costume, blouse, shorts and detachable skirt all developed in men's shirting. For strenuous play on sunny courts. The above model is in Patou pink. On the right is a charming little sports ensemble of blue and white flannel, the blouse striped with bands of blue satin and the three-quarter-length coat lined with blue flannel. A hat accented with bright blue stars completes the costume.

Music and Art of Italy Are Discussed

The Young Women's Missionary Society was in charge of the programme at the Metropolitan Young People's Society meeting on Monday evening. Three very interesting and instructive papers dealing with the art and music of the Italians, and the United Church missions in Canada, were presented.

Miss Pearl Matthews gave an interesting review of the works of three outstanding Italian artists, Raphael, with his wonderful painting of the "Madonna," Leonardo De Vinci, sculptor, artist and poet, with his great painting, "The Last Supper," and Michelangelo, who planned the Dome of St. Peter's, and whose great paintings decorate the ceiling of the Pope's Chapel, and the walls of the Vatican. Several reproductions of the paintings of Italian artists were exhibited by Miss L. Koyl.

Mrs. T. H. Johns spoke of the music of the Italians which reflected the customs, habits, nationalism and characteristics of the people. The music covered a wide range, from the simple folk songs to the operas and symphonies, and were affected by and reflected the climatic and physical conditions of the country. The Italians were lovers of music and found a natural expression for their feelings in song. Annual musical festivals were held and prizes given for the most popular songs composed during the year.

Mrs. T. H. Johns and Dr. Johns sang several selections from Italian opera and popular songs, which were greatly appreciated by all present.

Miss L. Koyl gave an interesting account of the Italian immigration to Canada, the problems the immigrants presented to Canada, and the efforts being made by the United Church to enable them to become good citizens. The Italians are willing to undertake any kind of work in order to get ahead, and the Italian children make splendid progress in school, and become good citizens if given a fair chance.

At the close of the meeting, a hearty vote of thanks was extended to those who presented the programme for the very enjoyable and instructive talks given.

Weddings

GALLIA-GREEN

At the First United St. Andrew's Church, Nanaimo, Wednesday evening, a quiet wedding ceremony took place, when Rev. F. W. Anderson united in matrimony Miss Mabel Green, of Nanaimo, and Mr. Joseph Gallia, of 370 Selby Street, Nanaimo. Miss Len Benedetti acted as bridesmaid and Mr. Wilfred Green supported the groom.

NEEN-RICHARDS

A quiet wedding took place in Vancouver when Mr. John R. Neen and Miss Elizabeth Richards, both of Nanaimo, were united in marriage by Rev. S. F. MacKay. Mrs. P. McCaffery attended the bride as matron of honor and Dr. Adam T. Neen supported the groom. The newly married couple will reside in Nanaimo.

WATERS-LAMERTON

The marriage took place at the First United Church, Hamilton, on March 29, of Muriel Geraldine (Pat), eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Lamerton, of Victoria, to Mr. Melbourne Russell Waters, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Waters, of Hamilton, Ontario. Rev. E. W. Brewster performed the ceremony and Mr. H. J. Allen presided at the organ. After the ceremony luncheon was served at the home of the bridegroom's parents. The young couple received many beautiful gifts, among which was a complete set of silverware from the office staff of the Olla-Pomson Elevator Company, where the groom is employed; also a silver fruit basket and vases from fellow members of St. Andrew's church, Victoria, B.C., where the bride was a member for several years, and a chesterfield suite from the groom's parents. After a honeymoon spent in Buffalo, N.Y., the young couple will make their future home at "The Pines," 15 Balmoral Avenue South, Hamilton, Ontario.

Only My Maid has seen me Use a Lipstick

Myrna Loy's Kissproof Lips
See them in Warner Bros. "Isle of Escape," First National, "The Great Divide," Fox, "Gone With the Wind."

—says film famous Myrna Loy, renowned for the exquisite perfection of her lips. "Before I used Kissproof, I always carried a lipstick with me and seemed to be fussing with it every few minutes. How that used to irritate my director! Now no one ever sees me make-up my lips because I only use lipstick once a day."

Miss Loy is one of the 5,000,000 Kissproof users who do not make-up their lips in public. See for yourself how unnecessary it is to constantly retouch your lips, by trying Kissproof today. It will instantly tint them with youth's own glow—give them a loveliness that lasts and lasts. At all toilet counters.

Art Dancing School to Hold Festival, April 23

A varied and unusually attractive programme will be staged at the Playhouse Theatre, on April 23, at 8 o'clock, by the pupils of the Art Dancing School in their seventh annual dance festival. The "Moonlight Ballet" is an interpretation of Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata," the adagio movement lending itself to some beautiful posing, while the presto passage, depicting storm, makes a striking contrast. The deep and soulful music, especially arranged for the suite of Impressionistic studies, the "Daisy Field," the "Willow Tree," the "Wooing Hour" and "Evening," fairly compels self-expression. All the dances are new and original, with the exception of "The Natch Dance," a solo by Iris Gaskill, upon request. The attractions offered will be enhanced by the beautiful costumes and novel lighting effects.

AIRCRAFT MAKE SHIPS USELESS

PROFESSOR SAYS DEVELOPMENT MAKES WAR APPEAR RIDICULOUS

German-Built Gliders Now Stay in the Air for Ten Hours, at Stretch

Swift development of aircraft has placed the battleship in a practically useless position, Professor Arthur A. Eve, C.B.E., M.A., D.Sc., F.R.S.C., F.R.S., Macdonald professor of physics and director of the department of physics, McGill University, stated in an address on the progress of flying in Montreal. The lecture was given in co-operation with the department of extra-mural relations, McGill University.

Due to the rapid movement of the airplane, he said, it is difficult to strike, especially since it is vulnerable in very few places. On the other hand it can bomb a ship under cover of a smoke screen and escape. At the same time, all places are available to the airplane, which can exterminate men, women, children and cities. Furthermore, submarines, which are also of great value during wartime, can carry machines in the hatch. All these things, Professor Eve said, make war utterly ridiculous. However, because one man wants war and another does not, is no ground for believing there can be no war.

Airplanes are being used in Canada extensively to inspect forests in cases of fires; for delivering mail quickly from one place to another; for exploring the North, where they can transport men, food and mining apparatus with ease, although, he said, there is not much wisdom in opening up country from which there is no transportation; for flying over unknown territory and taking photographs which are placed together to make accurate maps; and to prevent smuggling in British Columbia.

GRAPHIC COMPARISON

An interesting statistical fact marking the progress in flight is the Schneider Trophy competition, won by Prevost of France in 1913, traveling at a rate of forty-four miles per hour, and by Waghorn of Great Britain in 1920, traveling at a rate of 328 miles per hour, he said.

Dr. Eve discussed and showed illustrations of the wings of various flying creatures including the bat, flying squirrel, flying fish, and remarked on the amazing construction of the wings of the bat and the horned owl particularly. The mosquito, he said, moves its wings 1,000 times a second. At first it was deemed impossible to fly. Sir William Thompson said in 1886 and Maxim proved him wrong by building a machine which was attached to the ground to prevent it flying too high, and with wheels placed on a runway. A picture of this machine, which actually did rise into the air, was displayed on the screen.

In 1909 Louis Blériot flew from France to England and from that time the progress was fairly fast. Many interesting slides of early machines were shown and finally one of a modern aeroplane with four men leaping into the air with parachutes. Dr. Eve spoke of one man who fell 1,000 feet before he could get his parachute open.

It is yet to be decided, he said, whether large planes or Zeppelins will be the heavy passenger carriers in the future. A large national laboratory is being planned in Ottawa where models can be tested and experiments carried out.

FRATERNAL EXPERIMENTS

Several practical experiments were carried out to illustrate the creation of vacuum, the backward thrust by the propeller, and the difference of lateral direction caused by dextral and laevo-rotary motion. Dr. Eve mentioned the expensive use of helium gas, which is almost as light as hydrogen, in airships. This gas is plentiful in the United States. Count Zeppelin accomplished a great deal with Zeppelins before the war, he said, and in 1915 a Zeppelin flew from Berlin to German East Africa to relieve a food shortage, and discovering it was too late and that the British occupied the territory, turned about and flew back to Germany, making a flight of 4,000 miles.

Pictures of Zeppelins L-31 and L-33 were shown after they had been destroyed, and also one of the R-100 coming out of its shed in the moonlight. Dr. Eve also spoke of Zeppelin R-101 which is framed by light stainless steel hollow tubes and is attempting to use oil instead of gas. Since Germany was forbidden to make any aeroplanes after the war and could procure no engines, the German designers built gliders with no engines. These gliders have been known to stay up as long as ten hours. Many interesting slides were shown and Dr. Eve stated that one glider was carried up a distance of 4,000 feet during a thunderstorm and landed forty miles away from the starting point. Experiments of this nature will be tried by McGill students very soon, he said.

LUMBER COMPACT STARTS IN JAPAN

TOKIO (By Mail).—The Northern Lumber Shipment Compact has been organized by five leading Japanese tramp shipowners, the Mitsui Bussan Kaisha, Kisen, Kawasaki, Yamashita, and Taiyo Kaisha, with the object of counteracting the possible shipping depression with exclusive reference to Saghalien lumber transportation.

This trade has remained depressed since last summer and the Saghalien-Shibaura steamer freight last year went off as low as $44.10. Most of these shipowners engaged in this service failed to realize satisfactory results for that reason. A joint ship allotment office will be organized under their auspices.

Two commercial travelers met in the dining car and opened conversation. "Of course, you're from Lancashire?" said one.

The Manchester man replied that he was, and asked why the question had been asked.

"Oh, I was just accounting for your accent," said the other. Suddenly the Manchester man said:

"And where do you come from?"

"Worcester," replied the traveler.

"Ah, well, now I can account for your accent."

At The Playhouses

ROYAL There are only three THEATRE more performances of "The Whole Town's Talking," the play little farce at the Royal, this week. If you have not seen it, do not miss these last opportunities of doing so, as this play is a real antidote for the blues and will give you some of the most hearty laughs you have had in a theatre. During Holy Week the company is not playing, but hope to take a much needed rest, and will reopen on Easter Monday with a comedy, entitled "The Man From Toronto," a play which ran for over a year in London, and has been a great success in the provinces. It is hoped that Victoria may miss not having the Royal to go to next week, and when the company resumes, faithful audiences will be pleased to come and see them again.

CAPITOL Doris McMahon, pretty THEATRE dancer in "No, No, Nanette," at the Capitol Theatre all this week, passed up a chance to play in a big Broadway stage show in order to stay in Hollywood and work in talking pictures. Under contract to a famous producer, she asked for and obtained her release so that she might complete her part in the elaborate First National screen show which is winning such favor from local theatregoers.

DOMINION Whenever a Dallas, THEATRE Texas, girl determines that she will achieve a cherished ambition, that aspiration is as good as accomplished. To be specific, Elida Voelkel, eighteen-year-old co-ed, told her friends in Dallas last summer that she was going to go to Hollywood to win a chance in the movies. Her first step was Paramount, and her quest ended there, for she was found to be just the type needed for a role in "The Vagabond King," an all-color production, starring Dennis King, which plays all this week at the Dominion Theatre.

PLAYHOUSE Janet Gaynor is co- THEATRE starring with Charles Farrell in "Lucky Star," the Fox feature which is playing at the Playhouse Theatre this week. This is the third time that this duo of great screen lovers have played together under Frank Borzage. Sonya Levien wrote the scenario, an adaptation of Tristram Tupper's famous story.

VARIETY As an additional vaudeville attraction at the Variety Theatre this week, "Getting George's Goat," is being presented this week, six-year-old Duncan McLean is achieving a fine triumph as a singer of "Sonny Boy," one of the songs that helped to make Al Jolson so famous. In "Getting George's Goat," the Toby Leitch Players are adding much to their great popularity. This brilliant farce comedy is a scream from first to last, with Raymond Toby Leitch starring as a most comical negro butler.

COLUMBIA An entirely new THEATRE Pauline Starke will be seen by picturegoers in "The Viking," technicolor, all-color photoplay beautiful, a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer release new showing at the Columbia Theatre. This technicolor epic production of "Lelf the Lucky's" historic adventures is now in Victoria from

The Story Behind the Play

By J. J. GELLER

"LA GIOCONDA"
The Second Empire in France found Victor Hugo accepted by the academicians as the most promising figure in the literary firmament. He was equally at ease in the field of poetry, prose or the drama; novels, poems and plays flowed prodigiously from his pen. The year 1831 was devoted by Hugo to the interests of the stage, when he wrote four plays which, curiously enough, were perpetuated into grand operas. One of these plays was "Angelo, the Tyrant of Padua," a tragedy of an unfortunate street singer in Italy of the seventeenth century. This drama further enhanced Hugo's reputation.

Thirty-five years had elapsed before it served as the basis for the grand opera "La Gioconda," by the librettist Arrigo Boito, who made excellent use of certain incidents and the leading motives of Hugo's play. It was only upon the commission of the composer Amilcare Ponchielli, that Boito turned to Hugo for his plot.

Ponchielli had been contracted by the Scala, the foremost opera organization in Italy, to write a new opera. He had proved his mettle to this highly-touted opera group when he composed an original work for a rival theatre in Milan.

Instead of flattery engaging him for a new opera, the Scala demanded, first, music for a new ballet. Flattered by this request, Ponchielli earnestly to work and in a few days handed in a new musical score for the dance spectacle. His contribution met with so much acclaim that the management immediately designated him to compose a new opera. It was then that Ponchielli, having accepted the assignment, turned toward the versatile Boito for co-operation.

Boito, who was a composer in his own right, having written the text and composed the music for "Meletofe," and who was also credited with the books of several familiar operas, then selected Hugo's play "Angelo, the Tyrant of Padua," which he retitled "La Gioconda," which Ponchielli that the basic theme and situations in this melodrama would courageously bear the burden of crime and passion, flavored with sinister conspiracies and murders which distinguished the remunerative Italian operas. And Boito packed his libretto with the multiplicity of horrors and deceptions that were not for Ponchielli's broad and rhythmic melodies, would have proved too much for section operators uninitiated in the Italian school of music. As it stands, "La Gioconda" contains the nobility of Ponchielli's melodies and lends itself to four acts of brilliant mounting.

When the entire opera had been completed it was laboriously produced. Much to the composer's dismay "La Gioconda" was coolly received by the Milanese on April 8, 1876. Thereupon it was withdrawn for minor revisions and next pre-

"Son of the Gods" Will Come to the Capitol Monday

For the first time in the history of the screen, as far as is known, an authentic Chinese funeral is staged in "Son of the Gods," the First National and Vitaphone production starring Richard Barthelmess, which comes to the Capitol Theatre next Monday.

This sequence, done entirely in Technicolor, was enacted on an outdoor set covering ten city blocks. Hundreds of Chinese men, women and children were employed to people this fragment of San Francisco's Chinatown.

The procession, an impressive ceremonial, consisted of a series of legend-bearing banners carried on the shoulders of friends; a score of female mourners, their faces covered with sack and sobbing constantly; the leader of the procession clapping a pair of cymbals; black carriages, etc.

MR. J. H. ROAF TO ACT FOR CANADIAN MANUFACTURERS

VANCOUVER, April 10.—Mr. J. H. Roaf, immediate past president of the British Columbia division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, has been appointed representative for Canada at the fourteenth annual session of the International Labor Conference at Geneva, according to advice received from Ottawa today.

Mr. Roaf will be accompanied to the Geneva meeting by H. W. Macdonell, industrial relations department of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, Toronto. The meetings open June 10.

Mr. Roaf's appointment marks the first time a Westerner has been appointed to represent the employers of Canada at Geneva.

"Willie, you mustn't fight any of the boys in your class."

"Well, if you think I'm going out of my class and go up against one of 110-pound guys, you're mistaken."

AMILCARE PONCHIELLI
Composer of "La Gioconda"

sented in Genoa, where an emotional audience went into raptures. In its new form "La Gioconda" braved the Milanese once again when it was repeated for a second performance. When a curtain was lowered for the fourth and final act it literally spelled victory for the composer. Judging from the applause, Neudera state, "La Gioconda" became a permanent addition to genuine Italian operas. Notwithstanding the blood-curdling tale of Venice, the author injected into the opera a theory that an inevitable force hovers over the destiny of mankind.

FRECKLES

A Simple, Safe Way to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots

There is no longer the slightest need of being ashamed of your freckles, since it is now an easy matter to fade out these homely, rusty-brown spots with Ochine and gain a clear, beautiful complexion.

Be sure to ask at any drug or department store for Ochine double strength. It's always sold with guarantee of money back if it does not remove every last freckle and give you a lovely, milk-white complexion.

New York, N.Y.—Most stubborn cases of freckles have been removed by will advised thousands of sufferers have been helped. If you have freckles write at once to Roswell Laboratories, 108 Fifth Avenue, New York City, Dept. 1282, for free booklet.

PLAN FESTIVAL OF CHURCH ART

PRIMARY OBJECT TO PROMOTE INDIVIDUAL ARTIST WORK

Brass Bands and Machine-Made Saints Out of Date in Modern Edifice

LONDON, April 10.—London is to have a festival of English church art from June 16 to July 2, under the auspices of the Church Crafts League. The organizers wish to raise $100,000 and offer, for a subscription of $10.50, a "Fellowship," which admits to the exhibition, the conferences and the Abbey concluding service. "Friends" will pay 65 cents to see the display once. Practically the whole of the Caxton Hall buildings, Westminster, will be utilized for dramatic performances, conferences, lectures and demonstrations and an exhibition of church art.

In the preliminary announcement the organizers, headed by Rev. Jocelyn Perkins, secretary of Westminster Abbey, draw attention to the commercial spirit which practically extinguished the individual artist-worker at the end of the nineteenth century, and which was ardently combated by George Frederick Watts, John Ruskin and William Morris.

As the scheme is to bring beauty into religion along the lines of mechanical art, it is anticipated that the festival will receive considerable support. One art critic says: "It is to be hoped that efforts in the arts which aim at the simplicity which most creeds profess and be more in keeping with contemporary feeling and less pseudo-tradition, and display a purer aesthetic sense, since sound aesthetics are more calculated to call up our nobler emotions than sentimentality in the form of fussy brass bands and machine-made saints."

WHEAT POOL WINS APPEAL ON TAXES

Supreme Court Decided No Income Tax Need Be Paid on Deductions Made for Operation

(Canadian Press)
OTTAWA, April 10.—The Supreme Court of Canada today dismissed with costs the appeal of the Minister of National Revenue versus Saskatchewan Co-operative Wheat Producers.

The decision holds that the Wheat Pool is not liable for income tax assessed by the Minister of National Revenue, amounting to $184,143 for 1925, and $302,480.81 for 1926. The effect of this judgment is to say the deductions of the pool for operating costs are not "profits" or "gains," and that the pool merely acts in a fiduciary capacity for the grain growers, accounting for every cent it receives and retaining nothing that could amount to gain or profit.

The Saskatchewan Co-operative Wheat Producers, better known as the Wheat Pool, is one of the biggest commercial organizations in Canada today, handling, as it does, the major part of the Western wheat crop. Its capital is divided into 100,000 shares of $1 each. For operating purposes, it deducts from each bushel of wheat handled an amount for commercial reserve and elevator reserve, which for the year 1925 amounted to $1,714,700.97, and for 1926 $3,736,439.56.

The question placed before the Court was: "Are the moneys deducted and retained by the company under section 8, paragraph (d) commercial reserve, and (f) facilities investment reserve, of the contract, and other moneys received from here for carrying on its business 'income' to the company within the meaning of the Income War Tax and liable to taxation as such?"

Boys' Orchestra

The Victoria Boys' Orchestra held a social evening and practice at the orchestra headquarters, 2929 Cedar Hill Road, under the direction of Mr. C. H. (Chuck) Rowles. An enjoyable time was spent, and the Victoria Storyline Band was the guest of the orchestra members. Refreshments were served and solos given by Mr. Jack Court, and Master Byron Price. Mr. Rowles has been successful in securing a permanent place for the holding of the practice, and has also secured a piano which should overcome some of the difficulties experienced in the past. All members of the Victoria Boys' Orchestra will be welcome to attend these practices to be held on Friday evenings.

TEN MEN ARE SUFFERERS IN GASOLINE FIRE

Hot Water and Gas Mingle
When Drum Is Cleaned, and Sparks From Engine Ignite It

INJURIES ARE NOT SERIOUS

LAKE COWICHAN, April 10.—What might have proved a tragic accident happened about 5 o'clock Monday, when a group of some dozen men were washing out the gasoline yarder with hot water, the water and the gasoline running down the hill near the donkey engine. The heat and some sparks from the donkey set the gasoline on fire and the flames ran up the hill again to the yarder. Near the yarder was a drum of gas with its plug out and this exploded, burning ten men.

Immediately first aid was given and Dr. Wallace Coburn was telephoned for. Mr. Norman Thomas, of the Riverside Inn, rushed the doctor to the scene in his speed boat. Dr. Coburn bandaged the men's burns and cuts and they were brought to the foot and then motored to the Duncan Hospital. This place being filled they were taken to the Chemist's Hospital, where it was found that none of the wounds or burns were serious and would, with care, heal quickly. Five of the men being able to return to the camp on Tuesday.

LANGFORD, April 10.—The Girl Guides held their meeting at the home of Mrs. H. A. Hinks on Saturday. This Saturday all the members of the local company are requested to meet at Langford Lake side at 2 o'clock.

COMMISSIONER VISITS SCOUTS

DUNCAN, April 10.—Executive Commissioner W. Solway, who with Island Commissioner H. T. Ravenhill, has been visiting Boy Scouts and Cubs south of Nanaimo, visited today to Duncan and Quamichan. Fifty members of these troops and packs were inspected by Commissioner Solway in the Agricultural Hall grounds. Officers present were District Scoutmaster A. Sjochlager, Scoutmaster E. M. Dopping-Hepentall and Akela H. A. Collison. The commissioner spoke to the boys of the ideals of scouting, and related much of interest about the jamboree in England, in which he took part with the Canadian contingent. After accepting an invitation to attend the Cowichan district camp at Burgoyne Bay this summer, the boys' pleasure at the commissioner's visit was signified by the Cub's grand howl. New recruits are joining both Cowichan and Quamichan Troops.

CHOIR PRESENTS FAMOUS CANTATA

"Daughter of Jairus" Is Well Received by St. Andrew's Choir
at Nanaimo

NANAIMO, April 10.—Only a moderate crowd turned out last evening to hear St. Andrew's Choir render a miscellaneous concert and Stainer's cantata, "The Daughter of Jairus." The opening numbers, "Full Fathom Five" and "Sweet Days," by the choir were well rendered, the parts blending well. Miss Lythgoe sang two numbers, "The Wind" and "Little Damocles," in a pleasing and sympathetic manner. The male quartet, Messrs. Lewis, Phillips, Husband and Clements, were exceptionally good in their number, "O Peaceful Night." Mrs. Drysdale's two numbers, "The Stars Have Eyes" and "Piper June," received well-merited applause.

The mixed quartet, Messrs. Martin, Lythgoe, and Messrs. Lewis and Husband, sang "Brightly Dawns Our Wedding Day" (Sullivan), so well that the audience was not to be denied, and they responded with "Love's Old Sweet Song," which they sang exceptionally well.

The rendering of Stainer's cantata, "The Daughter of Jairus," was a musical treat. St. Andrew's Choir has never been heard to better advantage than it was last night. The choir work was shining and attacking was good. The soloists in the cantata were Mrs. Dr. Drysdale, Miss Hazel Martin, Messrs. Clements, Husband and Lewis, each taking their parts well. Miss Beth Emery and Mr. Dunsmore were very efficient accompanists. On the whole the performance was one of exceptional merit.

BREAD PRICES ARE STUDIED

SUBJECT IS DISCUSSED BY LADYSMITH BOARD OF TRADE

Board Plans to Study Pulverized
Coal Situation Thoroughly

LADYSMITH, April 10.—Sixteen members of the Board of Trade attended the regular meeting last night in the Council Chamber, when Mr. W. W. Walkem presided. Mr. Walkem announced that a new committee on resolutions was to be formed, as this had not been done when the other committee had been organized last month. He named Messrs. Forward, Collinge and Thomas to act in this capacity.

BREAD PRICES

The price of bread was the first subject up for discussion, a letter being read from the Esquimalt Board of Trade as follows: "As we feel that the price the bakers are charging for bread is exorbitant (namely, ten cents a loaf), would like to know if your board would support us by appointing someone to form part of a delegation to wait on the Premier to discuss the matter with the Government." A resolution on the subject had been passed at the Esquimalt board's last meeting.

After hearing the reading of this communication, Mr. P. McKay, of the City Bakery, addressed the meeting, stating that he had heard about this resolution, and one newspaper had made the statement that the price of flour was $5.60 per sack. He said that this class of flour was pig feed, and he could not purchase bread flour at that price. In the city of Duncan the retail stores were carrying on a bread-price war, and although it was true that some were selling bread at five cents per loaf, that same loaf cost them seven cents delivered at their store. The bread they were selling was baked in Victoria.

Mr. Thomas, of the Scotch Bakery, was the next speaker. He suggested that the Esquimalt Board of Trade be asked to state what would consider to be a fair price for bread. Neither he nor Mr. McKay were afraid of an investigation into the price of bread.

It was finally moved that the communication be laid on the table pending further information.

RAILWAY CROSSING

On the recommendation of the industrial committee, it was finally decided to drop the idea of farmers' crossing to the waterfront at present, as the time was not ripe for it, but that Mr. Forde, Government engineer, be asked to proceed with repairs to the existing wharf.

TO HOLD DINNER

The reception committee was instructed to make arrangements for the entertainment of several guests at a dinner to be given by the Board of Trade on May 13. Speeches will be arranged for.

Pulverized coal was the next subject tackled, and it came in for a lengthy discussion. It was decided to request Mr. William Coad, of this city, to prepare a paper dealing with the newest methods of pulverization of coal and its particular adaptability for use in the local power plant, or otherwise, as the case might be.

SPRING SHOW

Mr. Forward spoke on behalf of the Agricultural Society, asking the support of the board in the new venture of the society in holding a Spring flower show, to take place on April 12. It was moved that the board members should help the new effort in every way possible.

DUNCAN GRAMMAR SCHOOL HOLDS STEEPLECHASE

GIBBINS ROAD, April 10.—Duncan Grammar School, which closed Tuesday for the Easter vacation, had the annual Easter cross-country steeplechase on Monday afternoon. The course follows Gibbins Road, over Weismillers high, to the railway track. There are four good water jumps, the last one catching the unfortunate boys who land in the middle, up to their necks. C. H. Collison, who ran in good style throughout the race, won the junior event (MacBean Cup), for the second time in succession. W. J. Russell (11) was second; M. Rochford, third. C. Hoyle led all the way in the senior event (Parker Cup), finishing one hundred yards ahead of A. Hassell. P. Tener was third. A fast and furious game played last Friday in the pouring rain, ended the football season. The Rest winning over Ireland, 9 to 3.

Report of Nurse

COLWOOD, April 10.—At a recent meeting of the executive of the Esquimalt Rural Nursing Service, the following report was received from the nurse in charge: 160 children inspected, 64 home visits, 14 health talks given, 52 home school visits, 35 child welfare visits, 4 patients taken to hospital, 2 prenatal visits, 35 nursing visits, 28 telephone consultations.

COBBLE HILL, April 10.—Mr. A. W. Melhuish has disposed of his ten acres of property at Cherry Point to Mr. and Mrs. Flewin who, together with Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, will reside there.

Milk Goats Sold

COBBLE HILL, April 10.—Mr. Henry Trinder, well-known breeder of Toggenburg milk goats, Cobble Hill, has sold two fine grade Toggenburgs to Mr. Clyde Bowers, of Minstrel Island.

Mrs. M. W. Lockwood, Cobble Hill, has sold a purebred Bannan buck kid to Mr. John Alexander, Birch Island, North Thompson River.

Mr. Cross Injured

LAKE COWICHAN, April 10.—While standing near the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway station on April 8, Mr. Cross, a brakeman on the logging train, had his foot badly cut and his shoulder injured. Mr. Cross was standing on the track, signaling a train down the line when another lot of cars, in backing up, caught him and dragged him four car lengths. The injured man was rushed to Duncan to the hospital, but that institution being full, he was taken to Victoria by special train. The doctors hope to save Mr. Cross' foot.

NORTHERN ISLAND PORT PROSPERING

Community Hall Will Be Opened at Port Hardy
Shortly

PORT HARDY, April 10.—A large party of Victoria shareholders and representatives of Seattle investors, it is stated, will be present at the opening of the new Community Hall and offices of the Northern Vancouver Island Land Company Ltd. on or about April 17. Drilling on the lands of the coal company will be commenced on April 15.

An influential American concern which has under consideration the establishment of a pulp and paper mill at Port Hardy will shortly send two officials to investigate conditions. This company is operating an important undertaking in Oregon. Developments at Hardy Bay and vicinity and rumors of still further activities have resulted in several large acreage deals during the past few weeks. Further large coal areas have been optioned by the Northern Pacific Coalfields Limited.

Preparations are under way for the opening of the townsite and new Community Hall, and in addition to visitors from Seattle and Victoria, large numbers are expected to be present from Port Alice and Alert Bay. A dance to which all residents of the district will be invited, will be part of the features of the opening celebrations.

Mr. A. T. Abbey, secretary of the Northern Vancouver Island Land Company Limited, confidently asserts that no community on Vancouver Island is destined to experience such a rapid growth as Port Hardy.

Mr. George Cessford, of Victoria, who is in charge of construction, and the company's new building, reports excellent progress.

Shareholders of the Northern Vancouver Island Land Company Limited and Northern Pacific Coalfields Ltd., or others wishing to visit Port Hardy at the opening of the townsite, should not be disappointed at 714 View Street as soon as possible, to insure the reservation of accommodation at Port Hardy.

Welsh Society to Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Victoria Cymrodorion Society will be held tonight. The meeting will convene at 8 o'clock promptly and early presence is respectfully requested. The artists for the evening are: Mrs. Rhonwen Mason, pianoforte solo; vocal solos by Mrs. V. C. Williams, vocal solo by M. F. Rhodes; pianoforte solo, Miss H. Thomas; flute solo, Mr. W. Jones; vocal solo, Mrs. Cabbot; selections by the Imperial Ladies Trio.

In a village in the South a church elder was admonishing a female member of his "district" for indulging in strong drink. He was not getting a kindly reception from the woman, who was known to have a very ready and biting tongue.

"You know, Sarah, you should fly from temptation," urged the elder. "Ach, flee yourself," grunted the woman.

"But, my dear Sarah, all the village knows that I have flown," meekly replied the elder.

"A week, Jamie Brown," came back the answer, "by the look of ye, ye could care, ye could be nane the worse o' gien yer wings another flap."

Mother's Time Off!

Bobby's asleep! A sound, restful sleep after a round of hard play. But this sleep can only come if Bobby's feeding of milk—the all essential food—has been completely absorbed and easily digested. Nestlé's Evaporated Milk has been the answer to this problem for thousands of grateful Mothers.

And here's the Reason! Nestlé's Evaporated Milk is just the best of fresh cow's milk with part of the water removed—then sealed and sterilized in air-tight containers. Add water again and you have absolutely pure, safe milk—but more readily digestible than ordinary milk because the large fat globules of the milk have been broken up into small ones of the same size as in Mother's milk. Also, the curd which forms in the stomach when Nestlé's Evaporated Milk is used are soft and flaky and therefore easily digestible.

Use Nestlé's Evaporated Milk for Your Baby. Use it in coffee—in cocoa—in tea. Use it in all cooking and as a beverage by diluting with one to two parts water.

MR. ANDERSON RECALLED DAYS OF TRADE POST

Remembered Time When Indians Sheared Dogs for Wool, as Described by Early Explorers

CANOE TRIP TO PORTAGE INLET

Many interesting stories were told by the late Mr. J. R. Anderson of the early days of Port Victoria, during the time he came here to school. One of them deals with the Son-ghes Indians, as follows:

"The Indians, as most persons know, had a large village opposite Port Victoria, and we used to witness the strange rites of the medicine men. The aspirant for medical honors used to go out and remain in the woods for a long time by himself, talking with him nothing to eat. He was supposed to fast, and when he returned to the reserve, he would be thin to emaciation and semi-delirious, either from not having eaten, or from having eaten some roots or berries which had this effect upon him. He would run amok with daggers, and the women and children would fly screaming to escape him. It took two men to hold him, and they would tie him by a rope around the waist to some stable object, allowing him some play so that he might work off his excitement. We betide the luckless dog which happened to come within his reach. With his bare hands he would seize it and tear it to pieces. These medicine men were a source of endless fascination to us little boys, and we would imitate them in our play, sometimes, though we always desisted if any natives came about, for it made them very angry."

"There was nothing at all outside of the fort when we first came here except the Indian village and the wild forest. Sometimes we children were taken on expeditions up the arm in large war canoes, paddled by the Indians. I remember going up on one occasion, almost to the head waters. When we returned the tide was running very strong, and we dared not come down. We landed on the beach above the fall and made a great fire. It was dark, and the thick trees round about made it seem much darker. And it was very still, no wind and not a sound but the rushing water and the crackling of the fire. Rev. R. J. Staines was in charge. I remember how he led us in singing on the way home. One of the songs was "Deserted by the Waning Moon."

Mr. Anderson said that the Indians in those days had a breed of dogs which were white with thick woolly coats. They used to shear these dogs annually, and from the hair they made rugs and blankets, drying them and weaving them in very artistic designs.

After the departure of Governor Blanshard from the fort, Mr. Douglas had an official residence constructed in a small fort to the north of Port Victoria, just about where the Government telegraph office is now. That year Mr. Douglas' residence was begun on the southern side of James Bay.

Mr. Anderson, after leaving school, lived in the United States, during which time he frequently visited Port Vancouver, which was still under Hudson's Bay jurisdiction, as a small distributing depot for the Upper Columbia. Duguid McTavish being then in charge. Here he frequently saw the future president, U. S. Grant, who was then an officer in the United States army, and also General Sheridan and Sherman, afterwards prominent in the Civil War. There was a military post at the Columbia then, the 4th Regiment of the United States Infantry. About 1860, Port Vancouver was finally abandoned, and all the material there was brought to Port Victoria.

REUNION MEETING SET FOR TONIGHT

A meeting of the Central School boys' reunion will be held tonight in the City Hall Council Chambers at 8 o'clock, to receive reports of committees pertaining to the dance, banquet, parade and reception. All schoolboys, past and present, are welcomed. A history of the school is being written, and any information regarding the early days would be appreciated by the committee.

POLICE COURT CASES

After hearing the evidence of the chief witness for the prosecution, Magistrate George Jay, in the city police court yesterday, dismissed a charge of driving to the common danger brought against R. Hutchinson. Mr. Gordon Cameron appeared for the accused.

Charged with failure to supply information to the Dominion Income Tax Department, George H. Hardy, manager of the St. James Hotel, was remanded until Saturday at the request of Mr. W. T. Straith, counsel for the accused.

VANCOUVER ISLAND TENNIS LEAGUE FORMED

Adanacs Take Big Lead in First Hoop Play-Off With Alberta Champions

Royal City Quintette Downs Lethbridge "Y" 46-28 in First Game

Wally Mayers and Max Shiles Star as Coasters Show Superiority Over Prairie Squad—Two Thousand Fans Watch Match

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., April 10.—New Westminster Adanacs, Dominion basketball champions, took their first step towards another title tonight when they defeated the Lethbridge "Y" Aces, Alberta champs, by a score of 46-28, before a crowd of over two thousand fans.

The teams fought toe to toe during the first period and the Aces held the title for the first half. The second period, however, Wally Mayers and Max Shiles broke away with some scintillating basketball to run the score away up, giving the Aces no chance to reach the hoop. Point by point, the Adanacs stretched their lead. The crowd arena was shaken from rafters to rafters as the teams continued to fight, but the superiority of the visiting quintette was easily apparent in the last half.

Captain Doug Fraser, of the British Columbia team, displayed his knowledge of basketball in his stellar work on the guard line. He broke up play time and again, and was ably supported by Butler.

To Oppose Taro Miyake Here Tomorrow

CHARLIE Hansen, idol of Seattle grappling fans and one of the leading matmen on the Coast, who will make his initial appearance in a local ring tomorrow night at the Tillikum gymnasium when he climbs over the ropes to battle Taro Miyake, former world's jujitsu champion. The Sound city grappler has met the best and has made an excellent showing. His appearance here is creating a lot of interest. In the semi-final of the Hansen-Miyake bout, "Rocky" Brooks, Victoria "Iron Man," will oppose Young Jackson, from the Bremerton Navy Yard.

"Strong Man" Act Will Be Presented Here Twice Today

"ROCKY" Brooks, a youth of twenty-one summers and weighing but 172 pounds, is going to demonstrate to a Victoria audience that he is capable of holding 4,800 pounds of horseflesh—more than two tons of animal life. This "strong man" act is going to be presented twice today under the auspices of the Tillikum Athletic Club, with the net proceeds going to the Mull Bay Solarium. The scene of this event will be Blanshard Street, between Yates and View Streets, at 3:30 o'clock and 6:15 o'clock. The early show is for the benefit of the school children, while the later time it is expected will make it possible for the working folks to give the act the once over.

Dr. E. W. Boak Chosen President of Newly Formed Association

Popular Tennis Official Placed at Head of League by Unanimous Vote—Entries to Close on April 16—Constitution Is Adopted

The Vancouver Island Tennis League will be in operation during the coming Summer months as a result of the decision reached last night at a special meeting, held in Dr. E. W. Boak's office in the Pemberton Building, by representatives of the various clubs hailing from all parts of the Lower Island district. When the motion was placed before the gathering by Dr. Arthur Poyntz, president of the Hillcrest Club, it passed unanimously.

Although the idea was first suggested some time ago at previous meetings of practically the same delegates who were present last night, the formation of the league did not take place until representatives of the numerous tennis clubs reported their approval at the gathering.

R. SOMMERVILLE REACHES SEMIS

Star Canadian Amateur Golfer Advances by 2 and 1 Victory Over J. B. Ryerson

VOIGT SCORES EASY VICTORY

PINEBURST, N.C., April 10.—George Voigt, of New York, the defending champion, and C. Ross Sommerville, of London, Ont., co-medalist, fought their way to the semi-finals in the second round play of the thirtieth annual North and South amateur golf tournament here today.

At the last meeting a committee was appointed to draw up a constitution of the proposed league and draft a copy to the various Lower Island clubs, pointing out that each should appoint a delegate to attend the next meeting and voice the club's opinion. Eleven representatives appeared at the meeting and each stated that their members were unanimous in their opinion that such a league should be formed and that they were willing to enter one or more teams.

Dr. E. W. Boak, chairman, stated that one of the delegates should move that the league be formed before further discussion could get under way. Dr. Poyntz then moved that the league be formed, and different matters pertaining to the welfare of both the loop and tennis arose for debate.

C. H. Rayment, president of the Lower Island Badminton League, then presented to the meeting a copy of the constitution. The regulations were similar to those governing the Badminton League last Winter, and a few changes were suggested by those present.

Ernest Le Queune, of the Langford Club, moved that instead of three men's and women's doubles matches being played, that six of each and twelve mixed doubles be carried out in the "C" section. He also said that afternoon matches start at 2:30 o'clock and Sunday's games start around 10 o'clock. In closing, Le Queune stated that he would like to see the league ruled strictly according to constitution.

It was also decided that teams in "A" and "B" sections start on Sundays at 11 o'clock, and that only singles, men's and women's doubles be played.

With the league formed and discussion ended, the election of officers was the next important matter to be dealt with.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Charles F. Todd, one of Victoria's greatest devotees and supporters of the game, was the choice of those present for honorary president. J. C. Brown, Rev. B. Ryall, Mayor Herbert Anson, and Bessie P. Schwengers were named as honorary vice-presidents.

The election of Dr. E. W. Boak for the presidency met with the unanimous approval of the meeting. C. Hugo Rayment, who was one of the chief organizers of the new league, was elected as vice-president, while Ross Hocking was appointed secretary-treasurer. Dr. A. Poyntz, Ernest Le Queune and N. R. Staples were elected to the executive committee.

Entries for the league will close on April 16 at 6 o'clock. Any team or club wishing to enter is requested to communicate with the secretary.

VETS SHOW WAY IN PRO GOLF MEET

Henry Cotton Only One of Younger Professionals to Survive First Rounds

ROBSON DEFEATS ABE MITCHELL

LONDON, April 10.—Old hands came to the front at the beginning of match play in the professional invitation tournament at Roehampton, and of the young golfers who performed to well in the qualifying rounds, only Henry Cotton survived the first round.

Cotton, with superior play to the greens, downed Bert Hodson, five up and three to play.

Fred Robson put out W. T. Twine, two and one, and Reginald Whitcombe, who scored a sensational 64 yesterday, fell a victim of J. G. G.

Hornby Traded By Giants for Players Only

NEW YORK, April 10.—Reports growing out of Boston's latest big deal in the National League player market that the Braves, two years ago, parted with $100,000 in the release of Rogers Hornsby from the Giants, prompted emphatic denial from the New York club today.

"The Giants did not receive a nickel in the Hornsby deal," said Charles A. Stoneham, the club president. "Hornsby went to the Braves in a straight player deal in which we got Frank Hogan, catcher, and Jimmy Welsh, outfielder. That's all there was to it."

Colwood and Oak Bay Will Hook Up Sunday

Two Powerful Sides Will Play in First Half of Biggerstaff Wilson Cup Match at Colwood—Draw and Starting Times Announced

Two powerful sides will tee-off Sunday at Colwood when the Victoria Golf Club and Colwood "A" teams meet in the first half of the Biggerstaff Wilson annual interclub cup match. The respective captains have selected strong squads, and close matches are expected. At Oak Bay, the "B" teams will meet in a friendly match.

The feature match of the four-somes will bring together Victoria's two strongest southpaws, Art Beasley and Jack Matson, who will battle Harold Lineham and Walter Hall, Colwood's first-string pair. All four players have been going good lately and a close match should result. In the feature singles matches Beasley will take on Lineham, while Matson will have Walter Hall as his opponent.

CARPET BOWLING

The annual meeting of the Capital City and District Carpet Bowling League will be held at the Civil Service Club rooms tonight at 8 o'clock. Election of officers for the ensuing year will be held besides other business.

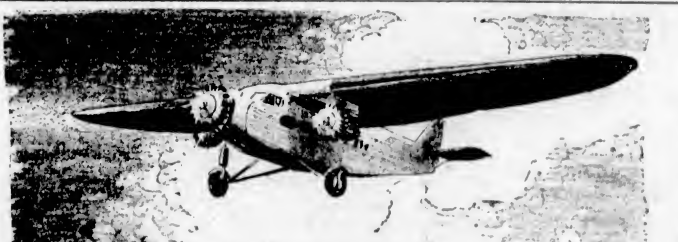

ELKS TO PRACTICE

Manager Walter Lorimer, of the Elks Baseball Club, has called a practice for tonight at 5:30 o'clock at Beacon Hill, upper ground. All players within the next fortnight, given any other wish to be given a tryout by the club are asked to attend.

Hidden Ball Play Might Stop Babe

By AL DEMAREE (Former Pitcher New York Giants)

Guy Bush, the Chicago Cubs great right-hander, who pitched the only victory for the National League in the last World Series, is a keen student of the game and very ambitious. Batters' hitting weaknesses are of especial interest to him and he is constantly on the lookout for information.

Just before the recent World Series, he was going over the supposed weaknesses of the Athletic hitters with a veteran American League pitcher. He talked about Simmons, Fox, Ibaez, Cochran and others. Finally Bush's curiosity overcame him.

"How should you pitch to Babe Ruth?" he asked. "Just keep the ball out of sight as long as possible," was the answer from one who knew. They told a good yarn about Bush when he first joined the Cubs.

Manager McCarthy decided to change the catchers signs to the pitchers about the middle of the season. But Bush did not approve of the plan. "Listen, Joe," said Guy, "please don't change them signs now. I've just begun to know 'em good."

MANDELL ORDERED TO DEFEND TITLE

Lightweight Monarch Told He Must Fight King Tut Within Reasonable Time or Lose Crown

CHICAGO, April 10.—The Illinois State Athletic Commission today ordered Sammy Mandell to defend his lightweight title against King Tut, Minnesota challenger, within a "reasonable time" or run the risk of losing recognition by the National Boxing Association as champion of his class.

The commission's demand was made to the champion after it received Tut's challenge and a forfeit of $2,500 today. A registered letter was sent to Mandell and if he does not bind the match within thirty days the Illinois ring body will require that the N.B.A.oust him as its recognized champion.

If Mandell should refuse the match or fail to convince the Illinois body why he should not accept it, he is certain to come under the ban of the most powerful members.

DAWSON FORCED TO QUIT PLAYING IN AMATEUR MEETS

NEW YORK, April 10.—Johnny Dawson, of Chicago, apparently has played his last amateur golf in so far as the United States Golf Association is concerned, unless he changes his method of making a living.

Called upon to give Dawson's status after the Chicago golfer had been barred from the North and South tournament at Pinehurst, yesterday, H. H. Ramsey, chairman of the rules committee, said Dawson was not entitled to play in amateur golf according to rules of the U.S.G.A.

Dawson's eligibility was first questioned in the national amateur last year at Pebble Beach after he had decided to change his business from selling bonds to sporting goods. He did not compete for the national championship.

Football Meeting

An important meeting of Victoria West and Maple Leaf Juveniles will be held at the manager's residence tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

BILLY TOWNSEND TO MEET GORDON

Vancouver Lightweight Will Meet Philadelphia Flyer on Mainland Soon

VANCOUVER, April 10.—Al Gordon, hard - hitting Philadelphia lightweight, has been matched to meet Billy Townsend in a ten-round bout here within the next fortnight. Although the exact date has not yet been set, Gordon is speeding northward from Los Angeles and is due to arrive here tomorrow.

Gordon holds a knockout victory over Leo "Kid" Roy, as well as over Joe Glick, Ritchie King, Tommy Cello and numerous other stars. He won his only two starts in California by knockouts, and is rated as a terrific puncher. He is a southpaw.

Townsend has already started training for the bout and has secured Gordon Wallace as his chief sparring partner for the training period. The hold-up of the announcement of the date is due to the proposed showing in Vancouver of Primo Camera, the big Italian heavyweight who is at present on the coast.

Jack Allen has been conducting negotiations for Camera to battle in Vancouver, and it is not yet definite just how the two dates will be arranged.

"A" TEAMS

The draw and starting times for the "A" team match at Colwood, with the Oak Bay players first mentioned, follow:

9:35—A. G. Beasley (captain) and J. R. Matson vs. H. Lineham and W. Hall.

10:05—K. C. Allen and A. M. Watson vs. G. Terry and F. F. Wilson.

Glenna Collett To Take Sixteen Players to O.C.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Glenna Collett, captain of the women's golf team from the United States, sailing for England April 22 to play a match with the British team, the women, today decided to limit their squad to sixteen players, with a line-up enabling all to compete.

The plan for the international competition calls for ten singles and five four-somes. Miss Collett found that she would at least have sixteen players available, so she suggested to Miss Molly Gourlay, captain of the British team, that the number of matches be increased. This suggestion failed to arouse enthusiasm abroad.

Miss Collett's plan is to have only four of the ten women who play the singles continue in the four-somes, combining with the remaining six American players.

Kilmarnock XI Facing Lengthy Tour in Ontario

TORONTO, April 10.—A lengthy itinerary has been prepared for the visit to Ontario and Quebec of the Kilmarnock soccer team of the Scottish League, due to arrive at Montreal May 17. Two days later the visitors will leave for Ottawa, and then nearly every two days for more than a month the visitors will play at centres as far as Timmins.

Two dates have been left open, and it is just possible that one will be used to stage a game between Kilmarnock and Glasgow Rangers, who will also be visiting the Dominion.

The visitors will sail for home from Montreal the day after the exhibition in the Eastern metropolis.

GOING UP IN SMOKE

It's made a name for itself—Wakefield has. In fact it's going up in smoke all over the country. Why? Advertising? No! Price? No! Although it isn't an expensive tobacco. It's something about the tobacco itself. It's got a flavor that made a hit with pipe smokers right off the bat. It's mild, there isn't a tongue-bite in a caddy of it. Pipe smokers are a conservative lot. So it's rather extraordinary the way Wakefield has taken on in the comparatively short time it has been on the market.

Two Soccer Cup Finals To Be Played Tomorrow

Peden and Davie Cup Holders May Be Decided in Twin Bill at Royal Athletic Park—First Match at 2:30 o'Clock

Victoria soccer fans have a sweet menu for their approval tomorrow afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park in the form of two cup fixtures, both being finals. In the curtain raiser, which will start at 2:30 o'clock instead of 2:45 o'clock as originally scheduled, Ladysmith's flashy junior eleven will make their initial appearance against Victoria City in the Davie Cup final. This trophy is symbolic of the Vancouver Island junior soccer championship. The locals have been training hard for the match, as previous experience has taught them that Up-Island teams are usually of a high standard. There is no reason to doubt but that Ladysmith, Up-Island champions, will be a fast, well-trained and clever team. Victoria City gained the right to meet the visitors after an elimination series here and when they step on the field tomorrow they will have many supporters in the teams that they were able to defeat.

The second and final match on this attractive programme is the Peden Cup final between Victoria West and Esquimalt, with the kick-off set for 4:15 o'clock. Old rivals and two of the most evenly balanced squads in the Saturday league, these teams should put up an interesting battle. In their two previous games the greenhairs have accounted for Esquimalt, but the dockers have visions of reversing the decision tomorrow in the Peden Cup final. Donated by Alderman Alex Peden.

the trophy was presented for the purpose of staging matches to create an injured players' fund. To a certain degree the project has met with success, but a bumper crowd tomorrow to witness the final would more than prove to soccer officials and players that the public are behind them to the last letter. Injuries occur in soccer as well as in any other sports, and it is for such mishaps that the fund is raised.

LADYSMITH STRONG
Ladysmith's junior eleven will be at full strength when they oppose the City squad in the final of the C. F. Davie Cup. Bernadell will be in goal, and is hard to beat from any range or angle. The fullbacks, J. Watson and T. Davidson, are sturdy defenders with a good knowledge of the game. A. Jordan and C. Rees, the half-backs, are a trio of clever players and a strong first line of defence. The forwards, H. Torkko, J. Tassin, D. Inkster, J. Kulai and J. Hulme are fast and quick on the ball.

The team will put up a determined fight in hopes of retaining the trophy they won last year. A number of fans will make the journey to Victoria with the players.

The team consists of: Esquimalt—L. DeCosta; Sweeney, Joe Watt; Smith, Hay, W. DeCosta; Bobby Stewart, John Watt, "Scotty" Stewart, Wagland and Roberts.

Victoria City—Hood; Moody, Gelling; Smith, Stoffer, Robson; Haines, Sheret, Wright, Gibson and McMillan.

GOLF AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

What is meant by "style" in golf?
Answered by JOE TURNESA

Style is the manner in which you play the game. Often you hear the remark, "That player has fine style." And, on the other hand, you sometimes hear the remark, "He has a peculiar style."

The vast majority of star players have good style or good form, but occasionally you will run across a good player who has an unorthodox style. The best golfers have easy, certain, graceful play movements and these players are the good stylists. To attain good style, a suggestion to watch a good stylist and copy him is not out of order. Constant practice is your best aid to develop good style.

SPRING POISONS

Prussic acid is no drink.
To help one work or play or think.
And if you check the line-up
Wood alcohol has helped but few.
And then again the cobra's bite
Is nothing to take home at night.
But when it comes to bitter gall,
The rankest poison of them all,
The very touch of poison's breath,
The silex has got them licked to death.

HEEL AND LEG

The latest word from the Southern scene of action is that Babe Ruth will be able to walk to the plate next Tuesday in Philadelphia with both legs hanging on and that Rogers Hornsby will also carry his heel into action for the Cubs.

This may be unimpressive news to many, but it will mean a lot to more thousands than you may know about. The Yankees without Babe Ruth and the Cubs without Hornsby and his heel will still be two ball clubs, but not the same so far as the pennant races and the citizens of New York and Chicago are concerned. Both happen to know a good deal about laying a section of ash against a fast ball or a curve, an art which will attract considerable attention on and after Tuesday of next week.

Ruth is the last outside hope of a team that hopes to keep the Athletics hustling, although Detroit or some other club may make them bustle even harder.

Hornsby is the main factor in the Cub's dream of revenge—which means another shot at the Athletics next Fall. No one can make Joe McCarthy or any of the Cubs believe that well-egg'd luck wasn't the trick that cost them two ball games when they played this game with pennant prizes back home leading the series. The only way to prove this is to win another pennant and try it all over again.

And Hornsby's heel will play no small part in this assignment.

NO WORRY HERE

While Ruth, Hornsby and other veterans are trying to stabilize their charley horses or remove some kink, there is one ball player who has a long time to wait for such physical upsets. His name is Charles Herbert Klein, of the Phillies.

Charles Herbert won't be twenty-five until October and he has already led his League in home runs. He is twelve years younger than Ruth and ten years this side of

BOTH CREWS CONFIDENT OF WINNING

Oxford and Cambridge
Oarsmen All Set for Rowing Classic on Thames Tomorrow

THOUSANDS TO SEE HISTORIC EVENT

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, April 10.—The battle of the Blues takes place Saturday, when the great Oxford and Cambridge boat race will be rowed for the eighty-second time on the Thames. The event, first rowed in 1829, will draw hundreds of thousands of persons to the banks of the Thames along the four and a quarter miles stretch between Putney and Mortlake.

Saturday's contest appears to be a close-up, even though Cambridge has won the last six races. When the crews came to Putney a few days ago for the final stage of their training session, the consensus of experts was that Cambridge had the brighter prospect of victory. But Oxford has now many supporters. Since the crew came to Putney they have unquestionably improved. Naturally, each coach thinks his crew is going to win.

"Booster" Phelps, of Oxford, says: "Oxford is better than Cambridge. The spirit, the work and the union among the men of Cambridge must improve during the next day or two or they will get a surprise. The body work of the Light Blues is not perfect at present and I should say they are not a well-balanced boat."

Bilo East, Cambridge coach, says: "Cambridge will win. Oxford has certainly shown wonderful improvement. Oxford will probably lead for the first two miles, but after that Cambridge, I think, will outrow them."

The University boat race has been one of England's greatest sporting spectacles ever since it was first rowed in 1829.

AUTOMOBILE COLLISIONS NUMBER 144

Police Report for March Is Largely Filled With Motor Car Cases—Twelve Persons Are Injured

FACTORIES ACT FINES ARE $300

The "Desk Sergeant's Report" presented to the city police commissioners at their meeting yesterday, is largely a record of automobile collisions and of violations of the Motor Act. Fines paid for violations of the act totaled $320; collisions of one kind or another numbered 144; two persons were seriously injured, and ten persons slightly injured.

Automobile collisions were as follows: With other automobiles, 117; with pedestrians, 19; with horse-drawn vehicles, 2; with street cars, 3; with fences, poles, etc., 3; with cluster light standard, 1. Five pedestrians were more or less injured; four persons riding in automobiles, and three cyclists.

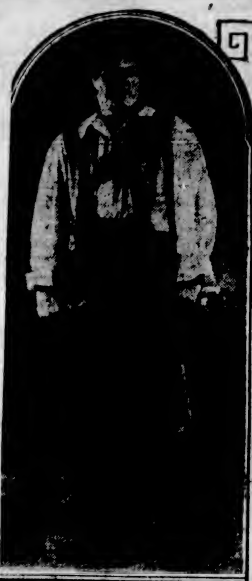

The number of accidents to persons reported to the police was 26, and first aid was given in 18 cases. The number of calls received was 222, none of which were for the use of the patrol wagon. There were 10 convictions in the police court, four persons were sent up for trial in a higher court, and eight were discharged.

BRITAIN IMPORTING MORE EMPIRE FOOD

The photographs here show features of current events in the music and art world. Allan Jones will take the part of Hugh in "Hugh the Drover," the Canadian opera now showing in Toronto. "Stormy Weather, Georgian Bay," by F. H. Varley, is reproduced from an exhibition of paintings by contemporary Canadian artists assembled by the American Federation of Arts in the Corcoran Gallery of Art, Washington, D.C. Beatrice Morson is shown above as she appeared at a dress rehearsal of "Hugh the Drover." Hugh Snell, baritone, takes the part of Cheap Jack in the same play. Robert Norwood, poet-preacher, formerly of London, Ont., now of St. Bartholomew's, New York, is having his portrait painted in Toronto by Joshua Smith, R.B.A. Muriel West, Bohemian girl, who spent three years in Russia, will sing and dance in "Carnival of Musical Romance," at Margaret Eaton Theatre, Toronto, April 8, 9 and 10. Poul Bai will be Peter the Broom Maker, in "Hansel and Gretel" in the week of Canadian opera. IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have ringing, buzzing noises in your ears, are sensitive, hard of hearing and fear Calabar. Desires, go to your druggist, ask for 1 ounce of Farnum (double strength), and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Closed nostrils should open, breathing becomes easy and the mucus stops dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Calabar trouble of the ears, is hard of hearing or has head noises should give this prescription a trial. (Adv.)

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK MCCOY

THE COST OF VITAMINS

A great deal of research has been going on during the past ten years in investigation of the elusive and mysterious vitamin. Druggists tell me that there is an increasingly large number of customers coming in each day asking for this or that vitamin, thinking that they can buy them by the package. Indeed, a number of manufacturers have put out products which they claim contain a large amount of vitamins.

Up to date, no one has been able to see a vitamin. They are probably not material substance at all, but some form of electrical or vital energy which is contained in varying amounts in different kinds of food.

Experiments have been made on animals and birds to prove the vitamin theory, and from these experiments it seems that practically all uncooked and unprocessed foods contain one or more of the vitamins. Those who live on a mixed diet, and can afford to have a large variety of foods, need never fear the danger of not being supplied with enough vitamins. But the one whose purse is small must select his food more carefully.

The food of the poorer family usually consists of white flour products, meat, sugar, and other cheap foods deficient in vitamins. If they could afford to eat plenty of green vegetables both in and out of season, the vitamin deficiency in the bottled flour products would be more than made up by the vitamins contained in the greens. But the average, non-starchy vegetables are often too expensive, and the results are seen in the pinched faces and rickety bodies of the children from the poorer classes. The easiest solution for such families is to substitute wholemeal flour and other whole grain for the white bread, pastries and puddings which they have been using, and which are mostly made of white flour, which is totally deficient in vitamins except for those added through yeast and milk.

Vitamin B apparently exists in large quantities in the whole grains, and it is absolutely necessary to use these foods unless the green foods can be purchased. Those physicians and physiologists who recommend the use of white flour readily admit that it is deficient in vitamins, but say it is still a good food if used in combination with plenty of green vegetables. The problem is for the poor man to get enough money to purchase such a varied diet for his family.

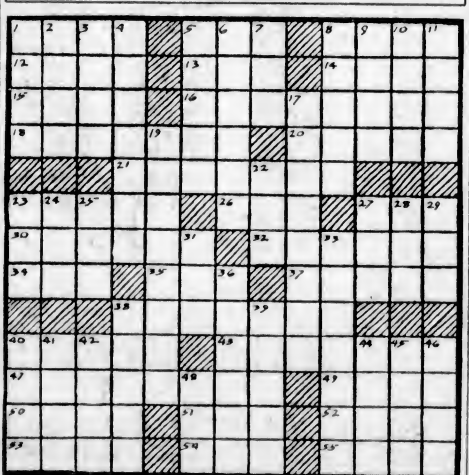

Sir Arbuthnot Lane, famous English surgeon, recently said: "Poor children depend largely upon bread and margarine and jam (mostly made of syrup with very little food in it), and it is essential to them to have a whole-meal flour. Most decayed teeth and rickets are due to this diet. It is absurd to waste money on dentists and dental clinics, and on cures for rickets due to a poor diet. For well-to-do people who have access to a variety of good food it doesn't much matter whether they eat brown bread or white."

Most families could afford to use a certain amount of greens during the winter, even if the cheaper canned varieties were used. The cheaper grades of canned spinach, beans, asparagus, and other non-starchy vegetables are equally as wholesome as the more expensive, and a can or two of these vegetables should be used each day by every family in the colder climates where the fresh greens are not available except at what often is a prohibitive price.

POLICE CHIEF IS MAN OF RESOURCE

(Special to The Colonist, Copyright, 1936)

OTTAWA, April 10.—The city of Chicoutimi, which stretches for three miles along the slope of a cliff down which cataracts tumble, boasts only four policemen, and the chief of police was much exercised on hearing that the Prime Minister of Great Britain was to be driven through his streets.

However, he devised a scheme for properly patrolling and directing traffic these three miles of procession. Approaching the chauffeur of J. E. A. Dubuc, M.P., and Premier MacDonald's host, he asked him to drive very slowly through the city, explaining his purpose.

Thus the chauffeur did and the four policemen, working in relays, were able in succession to appear at each of the important intersections in turn as the MacDonald entourage proceeded, directing the traffic and giving an official air to the visit.

Perhaps the Prime Minister of Great Britain was, like King Alfred, too absorbed in thoughts of peace to notice the amazing number of policemen, but his secretary, Sir Robert Vansittart did. "Why all these hordes of policemen?" he inquired, and was informed that in reality there were only four but that they were very active policemen.

Bulls Stage Very Violent Display for Half Hour at N.Y., Then Become Quieter

NEW YORK, April 10.—The stock market was treated to one of the most violent bull displays in its history in the first half-hour of trading today. Although the remainder of the session was somewhat of an anti-climax, favorable industrial developments buttressed the market against heavy profit-taking and a renewal of short selling in individual issues.

Closing prices were somewhat irregular, and on the whole substantially under the highest levels of the day, but the index of ninety representative issues showed a net gain of about half a point, recording another 1930 peak. Total sales, swelled by a turnover of more than 1,000,000 shares in the first half-hour, aggregated 5,681,370 shares, the second largest of the year.

Call money ranged from 4 to 3 1/2 per cent.

The utility shares displayed the most conspicuous strength, but were joined by several chemicals, food shares, motors and specialties. Oil responded but moderately to the increase in crude prices and rails were largely neglected. United States Steel sold up nearly 3 points on the tonnage report, but lost some of its gain before the close. General Motors sold up moderately to a new 1930 high of 11. Case mounted 10 points to 36 1/2, but closed to 36.

Foreign exchanges moved sharply upward when the Bank of England failed to announce another cut in its discount rates. Sterling cables rallied 1-4 to $4.85 3/8, and other Europeans were mostly firm.

Investment bonds made some progress today, despite the fact that the day's new financing reached one of the largest totals of the year, aggregating more than $100,000,000. Rails displayed the most encouraging tone in several days.

UNCHARTED ROCK HAS HEAVY TOLL

Sardonyx Reef on Coast of Graham Island Feared by Ships

halibut boat Inez H. is the fourth vessel to have been wrecked on Sardonyx Reef on the east coast of Graham Island. The reef was named after the old steamer Sardonyx which was wrecked there years ago. The next casualty was Mr. R. Cunningham's schooner with loss of life, Mr. R. G. Johnston, manager of Inverness Cannery, being one of the survivors of that wreck. Then last Summer the seineboat Nikko was lost there, also with loss of life, and now the Inez H.

Only last year it was advocated that this dangerous reef should be buoyed and lighted as a measure of protection to so many of the smaller boats which pass it in traveling to and from the Queen Charlotte Islands. Many boats are accustomed to run in under the cliffs

It was just a matter of luck that lives were not lost in connection with the wreck of the Incz H. The boat running full speed ahead at the time of the stranding with 4,000 pounds of ballast on board

Sound of handout on board, Captain Skogmo and the four other members of the crew were able to get into the dory just in the nick of time. Then they had to row many miles in the teeth of a strong northwest wind and, after landing, walk eight miles on the beach to the nearest settlement. Mr. Robert British, of Tiel, when still a boy, was one of the

The Inez H, forty-five feet long and equipped with a thirty-horsepower Frisco-Standard gasoline engine, was built some five or six years ago and was in excellent shape. Insurance which was carried will at least partially compensate for the loss. The vessel was formerly owned by Ness Brothers, having been acquired by Captain Skogmo a couple of years ago.

BORROWINGS MORE

NEW YORK, April 10.—The New York Stock Exchange today announced that the ratio of total borrowings by members to the total value of all listed stocks on April 1 was 6.12 per cent, an increase of 0.23 per cent. This, however, compared favorably with April 1, of 1929, when the ratio stood at the high level of 9.75.

JUST LIKE A WOMAN

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

An old Negro preacher owned a mule which had an efficient pair of heels and a loud but unmusical voice.

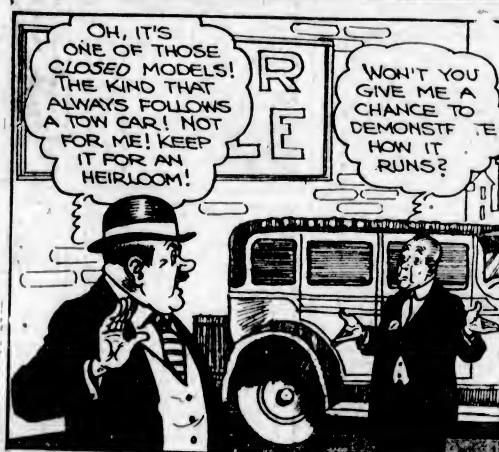

One Sunday morning, while the preacher was delivering his sermon, the mule persisted in putting his head in at the window and braying loudly.

The preacher finally said: "Bred-dern and sistern, is dere one among you all who knows how to keep dat mule quiet?"

"Pahson," replied a man, "if you will jess tie a stone to dat mule's tail he sho will keep quiet."

"Bred-dern and sistern," said the preacher, "let him who is without sin tie de fust stone."

COLONIST DAILY COMIC FEATURE

The Romantic Prince

By RAFAEL SABATINI

(Copyright, 1930, by North American Newspaper Alliance and Metropolitan Newspaper Service.)

Within his snug closet, whether he conducted her, the Governor considerably desired Mistress Danvelt to sit, and would have relieved her of her cloak, but that she clung to the garment, arguing that her business was brief.

"Your distress moves me profoundly," he said slowly. "I did not think it could mean so much to you."

"You did not think . . . ?" She was between surprise and indignation.

"What cause did you give me to think that? I placed Danvelt's life in your hands. Did I not offer to set him free at a little word from you? Before the trial, it would have been so easy. Now!" He hunched his shoulders, paused, and then resumed: "And since you haven't chosen to speak, what was I to suppose? Why, that, like so many wives, you would count yourself well rid of an importunate husband."

She looked up into that handsome, florid countenance.

"This is noble," she said. "It is generous to mock an unfortunate woman in the hour of her affliction."

"I do not mock," he assured her in words which his very glance belied. "If it is not as I have supposed, why did you not come before?"

"Because, knowing him innocent, I did not believe it possible he could lead him guilty. I wanted confidence for his trial; for I believe that in the Duke's judgment seat you dealt in justice; that you would not dare to deal in anything else."

"You were right," I have dealt in nothing else."

"Close upon twenty witnesses waited to testify. They were brought here in answer to my appeal and you were informed of it. They could have proved beyond question that my husband did not write the letter upon which you arraigned him. Yet those witnesses were denied a hearing."

"To have heard them would but have wasted time. The evidence of your husband's guilt was complete! He confessed his treason and set his signature to the confession, which was written down in a mass as he uttered it."

"This was a blow between the eyes for her. Her anger was shouldered out by dismay and growing terror."

"Confessed?" she echoed. "He confessed, you say? What did he confess?"

"That he had written the letter upon which I had impeached him; that he had supplied arms and money to equip the rebels."

"But that is not true!" she cried. "It's not true! How, then, could he confess it?"

"He should know the truth of it better than you mistress. Raynault now affected a tone of regret. 'All that you can say is that he never took you into his confidence in the matter. It is likely that he would have done so. Shrewd men do not tell secrets to their women folk, especially secrets that will put a rope about their necks.'

"But I was not alone in my belief. In my knowledge," she answered, "I sat in the presence of the Duke, and he was suddenly heaped against her. 'The letter was not in his hand. Twenty of the witnesses could have sworn to that. If he confessed . . . She broke off. Suddenly she saw the explanation, and cried out in horror: 'You tortured him!'

Still half-sitting on the table's edge, he watched her with those mouldering eyes, the ghost of a smile about his lips. Then he reached forth, and set a hand upon her shoulder. He spoke very softly, in a tone of gentle remonstrance.

"It was in your power to save him," he reminded her; and added, after a moment's pause: "For that matter, it still is. The hand that signed the death-warrant can sign the reprieve. If you have come to speak the little word I begged of you, you have not come in vain."

"Is there no pity in you?" she cried. "Is there no fear either of man or God in your dark soul? What do you look to gain by sending my husband to his death? Nothing, nothing, nothing! What shall it profit you to leave me widowed?"

What satisfaction shall you have from that? Is that a worthy man's vengeance upon a woman whose only offence against him is her virtue? You do not fear the justice of the Duke you say. My husband's confession is your buckler. But have you no fear of the justice of God? What shield will avail you against that when the time comes? Will you imperil your immortal soul for this empty satisfaction you are contemplating?"

Thynsault moved from the edge of the table, swung round to confront her, squarely planted upon his feet.

"Look you, madam, I have listened long enough. If you are come to deafen me with words, to weary me with a sermon upon heaven and hell, you distress yourself in vain. Heaven and hell have nothing to do with us at present. We are upon earth, we two, and alive. Talk to me of this, and I will listen. For the rest, I do not want your husband's life. It is the law that claims it."

"You are the law in Middleburg?"

"It's minister only. If I were to check it now, and set your husband free, I should be false to my duty as the Duke's lieutenant here. Yet, for your sake, I would do even that." He paused a moment to add: "But I have my price. And you know it, mistress."

"What is it?"

"With lowered eyes and a half-strangled voice she answered him. 'Yes, I know it. And I know that, if I paid that price, my husband would curse and abhor the life I had so purchased for him.'

"Are you so sure?" said Rhynsault softly, and with that provoked a revival of her earlier indignation.

She looked up at him in scornful wonder. "I am sure that my husband is a good, honest man, reverencing purity."

"Yet life is very sweet," the Governor reminded her. "Honor is sweeter to honorable men."

Rhynsault leaned down a little from his fine height. He spoke persuasively. "What need he know, since you are so tender of his feelings? A thing done in secret is as a thing not done at all."

"That brought her to her feet in rage. 'You pitiful knave! You infamous villain!'

He flushed, but kept his temper. "If I am that, it is love has made me so."

"Love?" She flung the word at him in deepest scorn.

"Ay, love," he insisted. "Love such as you have never known."

"And never shall, please God," she answered him.

For a long moment he stood meeting the defiance of her glance, pondering the blazon grace of her figure so stiffly erect, the proud poise of her golden head, the distracting, maddening beauty of her delicate face. The wolf was aroused in him, yet dominated by the perception that to prevail he must here play the fox. He commanded himself, clenching his hands until the nails bit into his palms. He smiled a little, very wistfully, and fetched a sigh that was pure artifice.

"So, you are resolved, then, to let him die?"

"I have prayed to our Father in Heaven to purge the evil from your heart, to let the light of grace fall upon your soul before it is too late, before . . ."

He abruptly he strode to the door, flung it wide, and called the officer of the guard by name.

"Cassaignac!"

A voice answered from the distance. Approaching, steps rang hollow in the vast hall outside. Turning where he stood, Rhynsault spoke to her in dismissal, harshly.

"You had best return home, madam."

Confronting this finality, her panic momentarily returned. "Ah, no, no, no!" she cried. "Wait! Wait!"

His white face sneered at her. "Wait!" he echoed. "I have waited already a week. What am I to wait for now? Another sermon?"

She staggered where she stood, one hand clutching her heart. Then, realizing indeed that all was lost, she gathered up her cloak and drew it about her shoulders.

Lead-footed she moved towards the door and the waiting officer. Midway, she halted.

"You'll give me leave to see my husband before . . . before . . ."

"Why should I deny you that? But time grows short. If you would see him, you had best see him now. At once."

Without awaiting her reply, he ordered Cassaignac to bring Danvelt from his prison and allow him to have speech alone with his wife in the hall. Then he held the door for her while she passed out to await the coming of her husband.

Prize Howlers Hot From Pens Of School Pupils

TORONTO, April 9.—In one of Toronto's largest public schools they issue a little magazine every once in a while. In it they publish some pieces "howled" written or spoken by pupils in class. Here are a few samples:

The highest mountain in Switzerland is Blanc Mange.

By Magna Carta no free man could be hanged twice for the same offence.

Sir Walter Raleigh was the first man to see the invisible Armada. The poll tax was paid by everybody who had a head.

Robert Bruce was a Scot who kept a performing spider.

The prime minister is the wife of the prime minister.

The Black Prince was the son of Old King Cole.

A pennyman squad was drilling, and, being out of practice, most of them were suffering from bruises caused by the unsteadiness of one another's movements. "I believe you have cut my head open," shouted a recruit to a nervous comrade who had given him a severe shock.

"Well," said the distracted sergeant-in-charge, "now is a good time to put something in it!"
